MARKET REPORT:—

There is absolutely no demand from any of the consuming markets, as local prices are too high in comparison with the prices of Americans. Shippers are rather more inclined to sell than buy Japan buys a little here and there and the business of a most retail character. Arrivals of Bengal are increasing in up-country but the quality is far from satisfactory. The demand for such quality as at present arriving in up-country will totally disappear unless the late arrivals improve materially. Local mills are buying ready cotton very moderately.

FIRE IN THE ESPLANADE POLICE COURT.—Yesterday afternoon a fire broke out on the ground floor of the Esplanade Police Court, but was quickly put out by Inspectors Morris and Jaffreys, who rushed up to the scene from the officers' waiting room, and switched off the current. The fire was caused by the fusing of the electric wires near the main.

COLLISION BETWEEN CARRIAGES.—On Monday night a collision took place near the bandstand between a landau belonging to Mr. M. H. Dehdushty of Dongersey Road and a landau belonging to Mr. Jamsetji Ardeshir Wadia. The horses of Mr. Dehdushty's landau then took fright and bolted and collided with taxi-cab No. 31. The pole of the carriage passed through the back of the taxi-cab causing it to move forward and run into motor-car No. 51. The animals were eventually secured near the Queen's Statue. The occupants of the carriage were not hurt.

LADY NORTHCOTE HINDU ORPHANAGE.—The following donations have been received in aid of the above institution:—In memory of the late Bai Motibai, daughter of Sheth Gapaldass Madhavdass, from her fund through Sheth Raghunathdass Gopaldass, five Government Promissory notes, each of Rs. 100, the amount to be added to the Permanent funds of the Orphanage and the interest to be used for the Orphanage Rs. 500; Sheth Raghunathdass Gophaldass, Rs. 250; Sheth Vallakhdass Ranchhoddass in honour of his son's birth, Rs. 101; Sheth Lalubhai Nathuchand for one khandi of rice, Rs. 58; Sheth Vithaldass Nenshi for one khandi of wheat, Rs. 37-5 Five muccadums of Bengali rice through R. Y. M. M. A.—The 23rd weekly meeting of the Young Men's Mahomedan Association held on the 17th instant in the Anjuman Islam School Hall, New Nagpada, under the presidency of Mr. Hassan Khan Hayat Khan, when Mr. Mohammed Usuf Nazam delivered a lecture on "What should we do now for the Association." He said the Association was in its fourth year and now they should further its scope and give its benefits to the Mahomedan public generally. The best course to be adopted for the progress of Mahomedans would be, he thought, the opening of a Sunday class for teaching English and other languages to those poor Mahomedans, who had little opportunity of acquiring these advantages owing to their being workmen. Other members spoke on the subject approving the idea and suggesting a library it is hoped that Managing Committee of the Association will accord its sanction to this proposal.

AN ACCIDENT.—Mr. Liladhar Pragji, of Mint Road, was being driven along Chowpaty Road in the direction of the old level crossing in his shigram on Monday, when the off-shaft broke, which started the horse. The animal bolted, the off-trace giving way, and dragged the conveyance on to the footpath, when it freed itself from the carriage. It then ran into a crowd of people that had collected near the wicket gate of the crossing, and it knocked down three persons, named Chhaganlal Morarbhai, Gheroo Mahadu and Shirinbai Framroze Shroff, who were more or less seriously injured. Chhaganlal became unconscious soon after the accident. Mr. W. Pechy, Traffic Manager of the B. B. and C. I. Railway, who happened to be passing, carried him across the railway line, assisted by a friend, and laid him on the grass, using his umbrella as a splint, Mr. Pechy bandaged Chhaganlal's arm to keep it steady and sent for the police.

SOCIETY OF OUR LADY OF PIETY, MAZAGON.—The Society of Our Lady of Piety of Mazagon solemnized the feast of its august Patroness on last Sunday, by a Pontifical High Mass, celebrated by His Grace the Archbishop-Bishop of Damaun. The imposing service began at 9 o'clock and lasted for about two hours and a half, ending with the solemn procession and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament given by His Grace. The sermon, on the Gospel of the day, was preached by the Rev. B. F. Mendonca, Vicar of Versova, who in concluding it appealed to the large congregation to help the Society to realise its long-cherished object of having a house of its own, wherein all the poor under its protection could be housed. The expenses of the feast were borne by Mr. Dominic Siqueira, who also gave the poor a sumptuous dinner. Souvenirs of the festivity consisting of pictures of Our Lady of Piety were distributed among the congregation. After the religious service, the annual general meeting of the subscribers, members and well-wishers of the Society, was held in the body of the church. His Grace presided, and after a few preparatory remarks, called upon the Secretary of the Society, to read the report on the working of the institution during the year 1910-11. The report states that the financial condition has, on the whole, been of a satisfactory nature. The receipts from the various sources such as subscriptions from the members, subscribers, and Goan clubs in Mazagon, donations, fancy fair, variety entertainment, etc., amounted to Rs. 2,764-1-5 1-2, while the expenses in maintaining 38 poor during the year totalled Rs. 1,742-0-3. This left a balance of Rs. 1,022-1-2 1-2 which added to the reserve fund has raised this to Rs. 8,567-14-5. The number of members is 133 and that of subscribers 107. The Building Fund stands at Rs. 7,564-14-7. This is certainly not sufficient for a satisfactory building, and there is a need of more funds. His Grace, therefore, appealed on behalf of the Society to the charitable public and particularly to those that were hearing him that day, not to forget the Building Fund of the Society, and to contribute their mite towards the same, so that institution may make a start with the building operations of their Home for the poor within the next twelve months at least. Before the meeting terminated, Monsignor L. C. Pera, the Vicar General of the Diocese of Damaun and the Spiritual Director of the Society, announced the receipt of Rs. 100 from an anonymous donor.

BOMBAY HIGH COURT.

SHIP'S COMPANY IN DIFFICULTIES.

ON the Original Side of the Bombay High Court, yesterday, the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Beaman disposed of the suit brought by Messrs. Cory Brothers and Co., Limited, against the s.s. "Tandanya," in which the plaintiffs sought to recover from the defendant ship six thousand and odd rupees for necessaries supplied. Mr. M. A. Jardine, instructed by Messrs. Thakoredas and Co., appeared for the plaintiffs. There was no appearance for the defendants.

Captain Fox was the first witness examined. He said that he held power of attorney from the plaintiffs. The "Tandanya" arrived in Bombay on the 10th June last. Captain Cornwall of the steam tug came to see him and asked him to make advances for the necessaries of the ship. Witness made advances from time to time, and the chief item was for the wages of the crew and their passage to Australia. The accounts were submitted and the captain gave him a bill for £235 on the Union Transit Company of Glasgow. That bill was dishonoured, and hence the present suit was filed.

Captain Cornwall of the s.s. "Tandanya" said that he brought out the ship from south shields. He was engaged by the Union Transit Company. He did not know who the owners were. He was bound for Australia, but owing to stress of weather he was driven to Bombay. The "Taudanya" was a salvage tug. After his arrival in Bombay he had trouble with his crew, and there were police proceedings and the Magistrate had ordered him to pay the wages of the crew and their passage to Australia. In Bombay witness saw the plaintiffs as the agents of the Union Transit Company, as witness found himself obliged to get money for the necessaries of the ship. He got money from Captain Fox. The ship was then arrested and witness from time to time cabled to the Union Company and to the builders. He received a cable from his employers about the weather on the 14th instant, and he sent a reply immediately.

His Lordship passed a decree for the amount claimed, and the defendants were ordered to cable home to those concerned that the ship would be sold in a month's time if the money was not paid. The plaintiffs were further ordered to make advances for the necessities of the ship and add the same to the decreetal amount.

ALLEGED BREACH OF CONTRACT.

ON the Original Side of the Bombay High Court, yesterday, Mr. Justice Dinshaw Davar heard the suit brought by Messrs. Max Baerlein and Company of Manchester, against the firm of Shankardass Harsukhrai to recover Rs. 5,440, being compensation for breach of contract caused by the defendants' failure to take delivery of 59 cases of twist.

Mr. Jardine and Mr. Kemp appeared for the plaintiffs; the Hon'ble the Advocate-General and Mr. Shortt were for the defendants.

The contract for this yarn was made in December, 1907, by an exchange of cablegrams between the parties. The cases were after notice got surveyed on 29th July, 1909, and sold by auction. The amount realised was Rs. 12,823. The present claim of Rs. 5,440 was for the difference between the price contracted for and the net realisations.

The defendants in their written statement raised the plea of want of jurisdiction by the Court in the matter. The plaintiffs had endeavoured to compel the defendants to buy what they neither offered nor agreed to buy, and they counterclaimed against the plaintiffs one sum of Rs. 1,023 and another of Rs. 874, for breach of contract.

The case is proceeding.

CLAIM FOR INJUNCTION.

ON the Original Side of the Bombay High Court, yesterday, Mr. Justice Hayward heard the suit brought by Madan, Sons and Company, chemists and druggists, against F. R. Singara for an injunction.

The Advocate-General and Mr. R. D. N. Wadia, instructed, by Messrs. Matubhai, Jamietram and Madan, appeared for the plaintiffs; while the defendant was represented by Mr. J. D. Davar and Mr. Jinnah, instructed by Messrs. Nanu and Hormusji.

The plaintiffs stated that one of their preparations was "Squibb's Ague Specific" which had acquired a great reputation. The defendant had acquired the work "Quick" to imitate the plaintiffs' goods and had his bottles and card-board cases got up so as to make them resemble very closely the plaintiffs' goods. They, therefore, prayed for an injunction against the defendant from selling those goods and a direction to deliver up the bottles and card-boards for being destroyed.

The defendant said that "Quick" was no imitation of "Squibb" and did not resemble the plaintiffs' goods. He averred that there was no likelihood of his goods being sold as those of the plaintiffs. He submitted that the suit should be dismissed with costs.

The case is proceeding.

SUIT FOR SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.

ON the Original Side of the Bombay High Court yesterday, Mr. Justice Macleod adjourned for settlement the suit brought by the Bombay city Improvement Trust against the heirs of the late Mr. Ismail Beg Mahomed.

The trust sued the deceased for specific performance of an agreement to construct a building on plot No. 2 of Chowpati Estate or claimed the forfeiture of deposit in the alternative. They also claimed ground rent for a period of two years.

There were various defences to the suit, after the filing of which the defendant died and his heirs were brought on the record.

COMMISSION AGENCY ACCOUNT.

ON the Original Side of the Bombay High Court yesterday Mr. Justice Beaman, disposed of the suit by Diwan Bahadur Kasturchand Abirchand against Jagannath Modiram and others.

Mr. Vaidya, instructed by Messrs. Bhaishankar, Kanga and Girdharlal appeared for the plaintiff.

It is was a claim on the commission agency account in which the plaintiff sought to recover Rs. 7,440 with interest and costs. The defendants did not appear, but they addressed a letter to the Court, admitting the claim and asking for instalments.

His Lordship passed a decree for the amount with interest and costs.

POLICE COURTS.

CHARGE OF CHEATING.

YESTERDAY, at the Esplanade Police Court, Rao Bahadur Chunilal H. Setalvad, Third Presidency Magistrate, disposed of the case in which Inspector Morris of the Bombay Criminal Investigation Department, charged A. W. Meek with cheating. It appeared that, in July last, Inspector Jeffreys went to Mr. Morris with reference to a case of cheating against a man named Weston who, it was alleged, had taken a cycle on hire from the Wellington Cycle Company for two hours and had not returned it. On examining the chit, Inspector Morris found that the handwriting on it tallied with some writing of the accused Meek he had then in his files. On making inquiries it was found that the cycle had been pledged by the accused with a Marvari at Masagon. Further inquiries showed that the accused had left Bombay, fearing a prosecution for giving false information to a public servant. The accused was eventually arrested at Raichur in H. H. the Nizam's territory. He was convicted and sentenced to undergo twenty-one days' simple imprisonment.

While serving guests at some wedding festivities in the village of Shouldham, near King's Lynn, Norfolk, a waiter named Frank Potter was stung on the lip by a wasp. He soon become unconscious, and died within a few minutes. A wasp swallowed with a mulberry has caused the death of a girl named Haden, aged thirteen, at Bourne End, Herts.

STANDARD BAROMETTER READING.

The reading of the barometter at the Colaba Observatory corrected for index error and reduced to 32° F. and for Calcutta standard at 8 a.m., (local time) on the 19th September, was 26,838 inches. the height of observatory barometer cistern above zero of the tide gauge at Appollo Bunder is 47 feet. The height of tide in the stream above zero of the tide gauge was 14 feet at 8 a.m., (local time). The temperature correction for a mercurial barometer, supposing the reading to be 30,00 inches and that of the attached thermometer 80deg. F. will be 14in. and this will be higher and lower by 01 inch or each 4 degrees. In the case of the aneroid, no temperature correction is required. Should the height of barometer cistern, eithermercurial or aneroid above zero of tide gauge be different from from 47 feet, it will read higher or lower by 01 inch for each 11 feet. The readings above are distinct from those given in the daily weather report, to which different corrections have been applied.

"WHY AM I ILL?"

How many ask this question, and how often with a feeling almost of despair! Ill again and again—headache, backache, neuralgia, constant tiredness rheumatic pains, depression, sleeplessness, and apparently no cure. But it is just such common symptoms as these that should make you suspect your kidneys.

"EVERY PICTURE TELLS A STORY."

If your kidneys are weak or diseased, and therefore unable to carry out their work, the blood becomes full of poisons, and if these poisons are allowed to accumulate in the system, the results are gravel, stone, bladder disorders, rheumatism, lumbago, and sciatica. Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are a special kidney medicine; they cure the kidneys and keep them well.

"It is now TWO YEARS since Doan's Backache Kidney Pills cured me of rheumatism, backache and urinary disorders," says Mrs. A. Miller, of 64, Avenue Road, Springburn, Glasgow, "and ever since then I have been keeping in fine health.

"But for months before I used the pills I was troubled with severe pains in the back, especially when I went to rise from a chair. There used to be a gravely settlement from the water, and I was bothered with spells of giddiness and pains in the head. When the weather was bad my limbs would ache with rheumatism. But I have been different altogether since using Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. From the first they suited me splendidly, and I cured myself completely by continuing with the medicine. I recommend the pills without hesitation. (Signed) Annie Miller."

UNION JACK CLUB FOR BOMBAY.

The Military idea of commemorating the visit of the King-Emperor to India is the establishment of a branch of the Union Jack Club in Bombay. That such an institution is wanted has been long apparent and General Swann, who originated the movement, is to be congratulated on the success which promises to attend his exertions. The new building, which has been designed by Mr. Wittet, Architect to the Government of Bombay, will be erected on a site formerly in the holding of the Military Works Department, near Colaba old passenger station and in close proximity to the cantonment. Towards the cost of this a share of the proceeds of fete, to be held on the maidan—at which a military tournament will form one of the attractions—up to a limit of half a lakh of rupees, will be allotted. In addition to this, the Sheriff, Mr. Shapurjee Broacha, has contributed ten thousand rupees, Messrs. Grindlay Groom and Co. Rs. 500 and the Bombay Brigade Staff the equipment of a hundred pounds sterling and further subscriptions will doubtless be promptly paid in. According to the statement issued by General Swann, every year an increasing number of men from units stationed in all parts of India come to Bombay on furlough or leave, some to take part in the various sporting tournaments and some merely for change of air. Accommodation is available for them at the Attached Section at Colaba, but it seems experience proves that men on leave prefer to be located elsewhere than in barracks. Moreover, it is found that an Attached Section, however well managed, fails to furnish the comfort and recreation which are available to soldiers when with their own units. As a natural consequence they seek their amusements in town and occasionally with undesirable results. Then again the cheaper hotels in the City of Bombay, which are alone within the means of the soldier, are not considered to be in desirable surroundings, sanitary or otherwise. These circumstances prompted General Swann to make the effort to provide for them the Union Jack Club, to be run as if a branch of that in London, to furnish accommodation for soldiers and also for sailors of His Majesty's ships, of whom there are frequently a considerable number in Bombay.

The necessity for such an institution having been recognised for some time, by both naval and military authorities, steps would have been taken earlier but for the difficulties attending the acquisition of a suitable site and funds. The former has been got over, the Commander-in-Chief in India having granted that which is now to be utilised. But funds have yet to be raised, for the grant is made under two conditions—first, that the club shall be started on a sound financial basis and second, that it shall be run on non-sectarian and absolutely undenominational lines. The Union Jack Club in London is as strict regarding these conditions as the Commander-in-Chief, and the Council of the Club, though cordially welcoming the proposal of the Bombay promoters, stipulate that the branch shall be started debt-free. So it will be seen that funds must be secured and for that reason the public of the presidency are appealed to for assistance. It is of the greatest advantage that the Bombay institution should be affiliated to the London Club, of which the King is patron and that the rules of the latter shall be applied, subject, of course, to the addition of such bye-laws as local conditions render expedient. By this means the Bombay Union Jack Club will be able to work on the same lines as the parent institution in England and no doubt its members will find it to their advantage that the two should be identical in working and method. These local bye-laws, it is proposed, shall be submitted for approval to the Council at home, for the assistance and advice of the body will undoubtedly prove valuable.

It may be mentioned that the patrons of the Club will be their Excellencies the Governor, the Commander-in-Chief, Sir O'Moore Creagh, and the usual Commander-in-Chief, while the Committee will consist of the General Officer, commanding the Bombay Brigade, the Officers Commanding Garrison Artillery and British Infantry at Colaba, the Principal Medical Officer, Captain Lumsden, R. N., Director of Royal Indian Marine, the Assistant Commanding Royal Engineer, the Hon'ble Mr. Morrison, Mr. Justice Russell, the Maharaja Scindia, Sir H. E. Procter, Lieutenant-Colonel Dunlop, and Sir Sassoon David, with Mr. G. H. McCausland as Honorary Treasurer and the Station Staff Officer of the Bombay Brigade as Honorary Secretary, a committee sufficiently strong to be a guarantee of success. But they cannot hope to achieve all they wish without outside assistance. In order to indicate the extent of assistance desired we may say that the Club to meet requirements must be able to accommodate about fifty resident members, with space available for nearly double that number in times of pressure. Plans, which have been prepared, show that forty-eight cubicles have been designed with broad central passages, which, on occasion, could meet extra demands for brief periods. Day rooms, including a billiard-room, dining room, library, and a reading room with a stage, have been designed to meet the needs not only of those resident in the Club but also of the Garrison of Colaba, the crews of his Majesty's ships in harbour and men of the two services temporarily under canvas. As is urged, with a free site, and a debt-free building, it will be possible to give good accommodation and good food at moderate prices and, at the same time, to make the club self-supporting. But to do this a sum of three lakhs and sixty thousand rupees is necessary and, says the prospectus, "in order to make certain of being able to keep prices down to a minimum, a further sum of sixty thousand rupees is necessary as an endowment to be invested and the interest to be devoted to the salary of the Superintendent and the cost of repairs to the building," making the total required just over four lakhs. There is the scheme, and it now awaits fruition. Men of the Navy and Army as well as the general public are invited to subscribe and it is suggested that all units of the two services contribute a rupee per head which will amount to a lakh and a quarter. But very much more than that will be required and the Committee appeals with the utmost confidence to the generosity of the Chiefs of India and to the public. We trust the appeal will be liberally responded to for the men whom it is sought to benefit are the men who enable us to be here.

GREAT DEVELOPMENT OF AMBULANCE WORK.

The St. John Ambulance Association, which within a limited scope has done much good work in India, and for which much earnest work has also been done in endeavours to place its organisation on a sound and broad basis, is now under going another constitutional change. This, which is the most noteworthy of the various transformations through which the Indian branch has passed and will, it is hoped, be the last of any consequence, was inaugurated last year by a memorandum, issued by His Excellency Lord Hardinge as President to the heads of Provinces and rulers of States. At that time there were only eight working centres in India, and only two of these with head-quarters in Bombay and Calcutta were doing any extensive work. A re-organisation was evidently necessary if the branch's ambition to form ambulance sections throughout India were to be realised within a reasonable period, and consequently Lord Hardinge issued the comprehensive scheme which is now being put into operation. The memorandum contained suggested provinces and divisions, in each of which a provincial or divisional centre might be formed, while these in turn were to be divided into districts with district centres and sub-centres. The most important suggestion, however, was that local authorities and heads of communities should become ex-officio, the local leaders of the association, instead of the organisation being left entirely to private effort. This was a wise recommendation, and, if it can be everywhere carried out, it will insure each province and district not only an efficient head, but plenty of interest and assistance from people in less exalted positions. The result of this memorandum has been, the annual report tells us, that eleven provincial centres have been formed, nine state centres, centres on three of the chief railways, a centre for the Bengal coalfields, and numerous district centres all over India. Thus, although the Viceroy's scheme has not yet been carried out in full, very creditable progress was achieved during the seven months, which intervened between its announcement and the compilation of the report. Comparing it with the comparative stagnation from which the society had suffered during recent years, the report is justified in describing it as phenomenal. There is often a danger, when such a sudden development is achieved in the organisation and scope of a society, that its officers may feel content and relax their efforts. We hope that this will not occur in the case of the St. John's Association. Lord Hardinge's memorandum dealt with ground, which is not yet fully covered, and we trust that those responsible for the Association's welfare will not allow themselves to rest, until the whole of the work which is there outlined has been accomplished. If that be done, we are sure that Lord Hardinge's name will be associated with the greatest step forward which ambulance work in India has taken, and that the Indian branch will once and for all be established throughout the country as a vital and expanding agency.

DEATH OF A GREAT INDIAN PRINCE.

H. H. the Maharaja of Cooch Behar, whose death is now reported by Reuter, recently joined the small band of distinguished people, whose obituary notices have been published while they were still living. A little more than three weeks ago a report emanated from Calcutta, where the Maharaja had a residence, that news had come from London of his death. This was circulated throughout India and most of the leading Anglo-Indian newspapers, including this journal, published biographies of the Prince and eulogistic references to his progressive rule. At that time the Maharaja had been lying ill in London for some weeks and his condition was such as to cause his family anxiety. But the news of his death was quite unfounded; in fact he presently appeared to be mending and news of him, received a week ago, said that his strength was well maintained and that he was improving. It must therefore be a painful shock to his many friends and loyal subjects to hear now so suddenly that he is dead. Nripendra Narayen Bhup Bahadur was one of those, who are called to sit upon a throne at a very early age. His father the late Rajah Narendra Narayen Bhup Bahadur, died in 1863, when he was only a year old. The small State of Cooch-Behar at that time had no such administration as it now enjoys, and affairs became worse temporarily after the death of the Rajah. A few years before a British officer had been despatched to the State to investigate complaints of the alleged harshness of the ruler, and on his decease affairs grew into a state of great confusion owing to the claims of the minister and the commander of the State military forces for shares of the territory. The State accordingly was placed in charge of a British Commissioner, and it was under his aegis that the foundation of its present prosperity and enlightened administration was laid. In the meantime the young Rajah—as he then was—was being given an English education first in India and finally for a year at Home, and when at last he assumed ruling powers in 1883, he proved himself to have been well-fitted for the responsibilities which he had to undertake. Two years later he was granted the hereditary title of Maharajah, he was also appointed an honorary Major in the British Army was invested in the Jubilee year with the G. C. I. E., and was made an honorary A.-D.-C. to King Edward and to King George. There is no need again to recapitulate the many directions, in which he introduced reformed methods in his State, nor the benefactions which he made in many parts of Bengal, but with the influence upon him in the early part of his reign of his father-in-law, a great Bengali reformer, and with the unselfish assistance throughout his rule of the Maharani, his accomplished wife, he has always been a pattern of an Indian ruling Prince.

At the High Court yesterday Sir Basil Scott, on behalf of His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury, administered the oath of allegiance, and conferred on Mr. Edgar Faulkner the Lambeth Degree of Doctor of Music. The petition for the conferment of this distinction was signed by his Excellency Sir George Clarke Governor of Bombay, the Hon. Mr. Lamb, and the Hon. Mr. Morison, Members of Council; Sir Basil Scott, Chief Justice, High Court, the Right Rev. Lord Bishop of Bombay, the Hon. Mr. Justice Russell, High Court, the Hon. Mr. Justice Davar, High Court. The honour is all the more appreciated by Mr. Faulkner, as he knew nothing of it until it had all been arranged for in England.

We are requested to announce that passengers arriving by the P. and O. Mail s.s. "Arabia" on Friday next, the 22nd instant will be landed with their baggage at the Ballard Pier.

Owing to indisposition, H. H. the Maharaja of Bikaner was unable to visit Viceregal Lodge on Sunday last.

Reuter states that the death is announced of a prominent member of the Reichstag, Herr Liebermann von Sonnenberg.

The Government of India have been formally invited to the International Geographical Congress which will meet at Rome this autumn. Lt. Col. Gordon, Superintendent of Surveys, who is proceeding on leave, prior to retirement, is likely to attend the Congress as a representative of the Government of India.

A report from Ootacamund states that the South of India "Observer" is authorised to state that, although after the close of the year, the Breeks School will not be under the direct management of the Government, a scheme is under consideration for its continuance under other management on the lines on which it is at present working.

A conference between the Hon'ble Mr. Butler, Education Minister, and the Constitution Committee of the Moslem University, will be held on the 23rd instant. Raja Muhamadabad is already at Simla for the Council Session and other members will come up for the conference.

In the Superior Court at Los Angeles, the presiding Judge has held that the law against divulging the contents of wireless telegraphic messages applies only to the employees and officers of telegraph companies. This decision arose out of the prosecution of a newspaper proprietor for having published an intercepted wireless telegraphic message.

The Times discussing the development of British democracy declares that the chief responsibility for keeping the five democracies of the Empire in touch with each other and for extending knowledge between them rests necessarily with the Press. It urges a further reduction of the cable rates and asks for information respecting the progress of negotiations in this matter between the Imperial Postmaster-General (Mr. Samuel) and the Atlantic cable companies.

The natural history of the mosquito will repay more investigation than it has yet received. A new and important discovery has been made during the present summer by a professor who specialises in these wildfowl. He reports having made the acquaintance of a species, hitherto unknown, which is very poisonous, and so small that it can crawl through the mesh of an ordinary mosquito-screen. In the professor's opinion the ancestors of this insect have been deliberately dwarfing themselves for some generations in the order to "beat out" the screen-makers. Perhaps it is worth while to add that the story comes from Chicago.

THE WORLD OF SPORT.

ATHLETICS.

(FROM OUR SPORTING CORRESPONDENT.)

LONDON, Sept. 19.

Crack athletes do not stand much chance in handicap races, consequently sports promoters are now trying to attract the stars, and incidently the public, by giving special invitation races among a few of the best men. Such a race figured on the programme at the Broughton Harriers sports held at Manchester last Saturday, and produced a very interesting race. The distance was half a mile, D. MacNicol, the present mile champion, being on the scratch mark, with E. Owen, the 1909 mile champion, receiving 5 yards, and other good runners with suitable allowances. MacNicol ran well and had gained the lead soon after entering the finishing straight. Owen was not yet done with however, and coming with a fine spurt, he beat MacNicol by three yards in the good time of 1 minute 57 3-5 seconds. This shows both men to be very useful at the distance, and as they are even better in proportion at the mile, they ought to do well for the United Kingdom at the 1912 Olympiad.

CYCLING.

The strike fever is in the air and has even extended to cycling circles. At a sports meeting held at Dublin last Sunday, the officials refused to allow a cyclist named Wilson to compete, because he (a clerk) had been loyal to his employers during the railway strike by wheeling a truck the work usually performed by one of the strikers. It is pleasing to be able to say that Wilson's fellow competitors were made of the right stuff and they went on strike declining to ride unless Wilson were allowed to start. As the officials refused to budge from their position, the cycling events at the meeting had to be abandoned.

The performances of athletes who are non-flesh eaters clearly shows that a meat diet is not necessary to great feats of endurance among some of them. One of the most prominent vegetarians at the present time is F. H. Grubb, who accomplished a very fine performance in the Anerley C. C. twelve hours unpaced road race a few days ago. He rode 220 1-2 miles in the time, and as two other vegetarians were second and third with 215 1-2 and 204 1-2 miles to their credit, it will be gathered that the non-flesh eaters scored. It is only right to point out that C. Moss, the chief of the flesh-eating brigade, had to retire owing to punctures.

Turning to another branch of cycling, in which the motor and not the rider provides the power, my readers will be interested in a remarkable performance by A. J. Moorehouse at Brooklands during the week. He rode a 7 h.p. Indian motor-cycle, and covered 70 miles 1,888 yards in the hour, so wiping out the old record 68 miles 1380 yards by C.R. Collier in 1908. Moorehouse passed the fifty miles mark in 40 mins. 59 1-5 secs. and the ride shows to what perfection the motor-cycle has been brought.

SWIMMING.

The writer had a chat with Harold Hardwick, the famous Australian swimmer a few days ago. The visitor says he is in love with England, and will take back very pleasant recollections of his stay in this old country. Hardwick has been very successful here, as besides winning the 100 yards swimming championship, the 100 yards at the Inter-Empire swimming races, and the quarter mile salt water championship, he secured the Inter-Empire boxing match. He intends to take part in the 226 yards championship at Sheffield on the 18th, and on his recent form, ought to put up a fine performance. Hardwick remarked that the Australasian team had not done very well at the Inter-Empire contests, the breakdowns of Opie, Haskins, and Champion, and the illness of Woodyer having made a big difference. He went on to say however, that he hoped and expected that a much stronger team would be sent for the 1912 Olympiad at Stockholm, when Davis, the great hurdler, and Hill, a real good middle distance runner, would probably be among the visiting athletes.

POLO.

The Woodpeckers and Eaton were left in to contest the final of the Open Cup at Dublin and as the former only had to gain one more win to secure the trophy outright, the game was expected to be a memorable one. The holders made a great fight, but had to acknowledge defeat, the superior ponies of their rivals being the chief factor in the victory. Mr. C. Nickalls showed splendid form for Eaton and scored all five goals, whilst Lord Dalmeny and the Hon. A. Hastings were responsible for the two goals put on by the losers. It was after the long interval that the superiority of the Eaton ponies was most marked, the Woodpeckers being forced to act almost entirely on the defensive. The winning team included the Duke of Westminster, who had a big hand in furnishing the ponies. As he has made himself responsible for the mounting of the next challengers for the America Cup, the outcome of the match referred to has a pleasing aspect, and makes one hopeful for the future.

Another important match at Dublin this week was the annual struggle between English and Irish teams for the Patriotic Cup. The Irish team included Capt. Hardress Lloyd, but was not so strong as usual consequently, the Englishmen—C. Nickalls, the Duke of Westminster, Capt. Wilson and the Earl of Rocksavage—had rather an easy task, and after scoring three goals in the first half, eventually won by 7 goals to 0.

THE CHAMPION CRICKETERS.

The victory of Warwickshire in the county cricket championship gives great satisfaction, as sportsmen believe it is good for the game that the honours should go round, rather than be secured by one of a small group. It is no undue praise to say that Warwickshire's success is due to F. R. Foster, the youngest county captain in England. Not only has he topped both the batting and bowling averages for the county, but his dash and enterprise has had most beneficial effects on the rest of the players. It is in this respect that the success of Warwickshire will do so much good. Other counties will be tempted to take a chance and go in for enterprising play, instead of adopting the usual defensive batting against more famous rivals. It is no unusual thing to see moderate batsmen score freely off the bowling of famous cracks in ordinary games, simply because they do not appreciate the ability of the bowler, and therefore face him with confidence, instead of with their hearts in their boots. Risks are sometimes necessary, and it is better to be beaten when fighting for victory, than to go under in an unglorious defence, when the only aim is to prevent the defeat being too pronounced. The public like to see bright cricket, and it is safe to predict that the success of Warwickshire will lead to more enterprise being shown next season.

Warwickshire made sure of the championship, by beating Northamptonshire. Charlesworth's innings of 130, and the bowling of F. R. Foster and Field being the factors. Foster met with chief success, his "bag" being 5 wickets for 18 runs and 6 for 63.

GOOD PERFORMANCES.

Blythe was responsible for a brilliant bowling feat in the Kent vs. Yorkshire match, as in the second innings of Yorkshire he claimed 6 victims for 28 runs. Whilst bowlers have had rather the best of matters during the last few days, they have not quite dominated the situations. The bat came out on top in the Yorkshire innings against Sussex, Drake (115) and Hirst (218) being mainly responsible. Hirst batted in quite his old form and made his runs in 3 1-2 hours, his chief strokes being three 6's. and thirty-four 4's.

THE TURF.

Danny Maher recently spent a holiday yachting with Lord Rosebery. There is nothing remarkable about this in itself, but there is more in the incident than meets the eye. Maher was recently suspended by the local stewards at Redcar for his riding of a horse belonging to Lord Rosebery, and he was reported to the Jockey Club. That body held an inquiry, and decided that the jockey was in no way to blame. Lord Rosebery's invitation followed, and it was a nice way of showing that he was quite satisfied with Maher's riding.

YORK.

The York meeting has claimed the attention of race goers this week, and has provided some interesting racing. The chief sensation was the first defeat of Lady Americus, this happening in the Prince of Wales's Plate. The daughter of Americus was trying to concede 15 lbs. to Merry Maiden, rather a tall order, and it is perhaps well not to make too much of the defeat, though it looks as though the filly does not really stay even five furlongs.

Pillo carried Mr. Buchanan's colours to the fore, in the Ebor Handicap, a very creditable win, as the son of Raeburn and Golden Horn was a cripple early in the season, and it speaks well for Robinson's ability that he was able to send the horse to the post at all.

Most owners like to win races, but it is too much of an ordeal for many to risk having to make the chief speech at the Gimerack Club dinner. That is one of the "penalties" which go with the winning of the Gimerack Stakes for two year olds and probably had something to do with the numerous scratchings. From a big entry, the actual starters dwindled down to six, the spoils going to Mr. Hulton's Lomond. It was an unsatisfactory race, as Cylgad finished a neck in front of Lomond, but was disqualified for boring, Winter being unable to keep his mount straight.

IN GENERAL.

Lord Derby now heads the list of winning owners, the success of Hair Trigger II as Hurst Park having enabled him to depose Mr. J. B. Joel.

Bomb. Wells is training at Putney for his boxing match with Jack Johnson, and is doing some rowing with a view to strengthening the shoulder and stomach muscles.

This has been a record season for big carp, Mr. R. G. Woodruff having caught two exceptional fine ones in the Cheshunt reservoir, the weights being 16lbs. 7oz. and 17lbs. 2oz.

The Cinque Ports Lawn Tennis Championships at Folkstone enabled Miss Boothby to tone for her defeat by Miss M. Coales last season. They again met in the final of the singles, when the superior steadiness of Miss Boothby led to her victory by two sets to love.

Inter-county bowling matches are growing in favour, the latest being between representatives of Middlesex and Devon, the former winning by 81 to 71.

Two important water polo matches have claimed attention during the week. Hyde Seal beat Polytechnis by 7 goals to 5 in the semi-final of the English Club Championship, whilst Wales defeated Ireland in the International match at Dublin by 3 goals to 2.

BOMBAY TELEGRAPHISTS' GRIEVANCES.

Further Inquiry to be Held.

A special meeting of the Bombay members of the Indian Telegraph Association was held last night, at the Association Rooms, Bastian Lane, Fort, Mr. Lafond, President of the Association, Bombay Centre, occupied the chair.

Mr. Barton, the General Secretary, asserted that the Senior Department Superintendent was solely responsible for creating the present dissatisfaction amongst the men. He mentioned the names of men, who, he said, had suffered by the new orders, and said that the manner, in which the "pie money" allowance was being restricted was contrary to the rules prevailing in several principal offices such as Agra, Madras, Karachi Calcutta and Rangoon. He said that the orders recently introduced were contrary to those, which had been approved by former superintendents, and added that men, who had over two years' service to their credit had been warned that they would not be allowed increases of pay, until they had passed a certain test.

In conclusion Mr. Barton said that the Director General had informed them that the Circle Officer would shortly be in Bombay and after due investigation would make a full report and every satisfaction would be given.

A vote of confidence in the Director-General was unanimously passed.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

Sir,—The report contained in your issue of yesterday, dealing with the grievances of the telegraph subordinate staff of the Bombay office, has occasioned no little surprise. It is difficult to understand how responsible officials, after creating grievances, could so deliberately overstep the line of fairness and put forward a defence, which is absolutely one-sided. The staff are prepared to substantiate their statement if afforded an impartial inquiry. The whole trouble is traceable to the fact that the senior Deputy Superintendent has been given too free a hand in matters which should have the Superintendent's sole attention, and has unnecessarily gone out of his way to overdo things. The men naturally feel that the Superintendent has unconsciously allowed his powers to be usurped, and is more or less influenced by his senior Deputy, who does not hesitate to proclaim his supreme control. This present situation would never have arisen had the powers invested in the senior Deputy not been abused. In the circumstances the Superintendent has no alternative, but to support his Deputy whether right or wrong. Another point is the extraordinary action of the Superintendent in trespassing on the legal right of the Association, to discuss at its meetings questions affecting the welfare of the staff, and the further extreme step of proceeding against Association officials for having circulated amongst its members copies of minutes of a meeting, at which certain grievances were discussed. The men rightly view this as unjustifiable and insist that the charges against the committee be unreservedly withdrawn.

An attempt is made to show that the Superintendent was willing to accord really existing grievances due consideration, although at an informal meeting he distinctly made it understood that he was not prepared to go into them, even though they did exist. In fact, in his communication dated the 6th instant he specifically states that "it is not necessary to go into the alleged grievances" but that he was only concerned with what he chooses to characterise as "a serious breach of discipline." Further that "the object of the meeting was not to inquire into the extent or nature of the so-called grievances of the Telegraphists." In this there is a distinct lack of fair dealing which cannot but occasion dissatisfaction.—Yours, etc.,

H. BARTON.
General Secretary,
I. T. A.

OLD BOMBAY EXHIBITION.

The committee of the Old Bombay Exhibition hope that, in addition to the representation of the buildings of olden times, which will be erected in the grounds, they will be able to furnish the public with a large quantity of authentic information on the subject in the loan exhibition, which is to have a special building to itself. They have made an appeal for the loan of any maps, plans, drawings, phothographs or other articles illustrative of Bombay, as it was in the early days of the European occupation. So far, although the response has been fairly satisfactory, it has not been so liberal as to furnish the committee with such a wide collection as they hope eventually to obtain. We may therefore bring this appeal once more to the notice of citizens and other Anglo-Indians, who may be in possession of such materials as are required and, in doing so, it is perhaps unnecessary to add that any articles, which may be lent, will have the greatest care taken of them and their return is guaranteed.

One exhibit of "Old Bombay" that should deserve eventually to find a resting place in the Western India Museum will be the model of the seven Islands, that is being prepared to the order of the Committee. This mode is on a scale of twenty feet by eight, and is largely based on seventeenth century maps. It may be remembered that the preparation of a model of this nature was suggested by Mr. Wardlaw Milne, in the letter to the Press, in which he first suggested the holding of the exhibition. Its achievement will be a valuable contribution to the rather scanty collection of materials available, in which one can study the history of the development of Bombay. Most of us so unthinkingly accept Bombay as it is, with its coast lines altered by causeways, vellards, and reclamation work, that we cannot realise in the least what it was like when the English first came here, or even what shape it was a hundred years ago.

When engaging rooms for a holiday it is advisable not to take too much for granted. Dr. Phineas L. Raycroft, the health expert of Des Moines, Iowa, has learnt caution in this respect, according to a story he has been telling in a recent lecture. He once thought of spending his midsummer vacation in the Tennessee mountains. He wrote to a mountaineer whose picturesque homestead had been highly recommended to him, and in the course of his letter asked if there was a bath in the house. The reply came: "If you want a bath you had better take it before you come."

IRISH RAILWAY STRIKES.

SIGNALMAN'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Service Suspended in Many Districts.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, SEPT. 18.

The railway strike in the south and west of Ireland has assumed a serious aspect. Dublin, Limerick, Ennis and Tipperary are entirely cut off and the railway services have been suspended in many districts.

The strike has extended to Queenstown and the American mail service is thus disorganised.

LATER.

The strikers to-day burned the house of a signalman, who remained at work at Thurles. Two revolver shots were fired and the signalman had a narrow escape.

LONDON, SEPT. 19.

The executive of the Amalgamated Society of Railwaymen have gone to Dublin to consider the position.

A meeting of Irish railwaymen in Dublin yesterday evening, passed a resolution declaring that they would no further submit to their "degrading conditions of labour."

The meeting also hoped that the executive of the Amalgamated Society would call out all their fellow-workers to support them.

LATER.

The Irish railways affected by the strike are the Great Northern, Midland, Great Western and Great Northern, but the last one has already restored its services which are almost normal. Other lines are still running a few trains, on the main routes in and out of Dublin and elsewhere. Traffic is entirely suspended at Queenstown.

REVOLUTIONARY STRIKE IN SPAIN.

Disturbances in Several Places

LONDON, SEPT. 18.

A general revolutionary strike has broken out at Valencia, and martial law has been proclaimed. Serious disturbances are reported. The telegraphs have been cut and the town is occupied by troops.

Riots have also occurred at Saragossa, the mob cheering for a revolution and firing on the civil guard. The latter replied to the fire and several rioters were killed or wounded.

The disorders are only a little less serious in other large centres.

LONDON, SEPT. 19.

An improvement in the situation is reported in Spain, and is apparently due to the wholesale arrests of anarchists in the strike centres.

Only 800, or one per cent. of the total workers, have struck at Barcelona.

AUSTRIAN FOOD RIOTS.

LONDON, SEPT. 19.

Disturbances were renewed at Ottakring (Vienna) yesterday evening, but were quickly suppressed. The district has been placed under martial law, and the inhabitants have been ordered not to leave their houses after eight o'clock in the evening.

NEWS FROM SHIRAZ.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

LAHORE, SEPT. 19.

News from Shiraz dated 2nd September says:—Another attempt has been made to patch up things between the Governor and the Kawamis, but nothing has resulted and though the Kashgais have given up most of their nightly firing, the Kawamis still keep it up, it is said, because they are afraid. In their own quarters a lot of robbery is going on. The Kashgais are are fairly well behaved in the city itself, but outside they commit nightly robberies wherever they think they can get fodder for their animals. Solat is in Baizebeome eight farsakhs off and is not expected to come nearer at present. He wrote to the merchants saying that he had always been their friend and asking them for his sake to do all possible to get the Kawamis to come to terms, but the Kawamis are supposed to distrust the Governor and so a deadlock continues. The trade is as bad as ever, but there is a report that the Baharbiz have agreed for a price to escort the caravans in from Fars. There are large stocks of opium to be brought in from that district. The main road to Ispahan is blocked by the Arabs, but the caravans have left for the north by Solat's road and with his guards. No post has come in from the north for a fortnight.

LONDON, SEPT. 18.

Herr von Kiderlen-Waechter has handed to M. Cambon, Germany's reply to the last French communication.

LONDON, SEPT. 19.

The French newspapers intimate that the German reply is far from satisfactory, and that Germany is still insisting upon international control in various spheres of France's management of affairs in Morocco, making reservations which may be used as pretexts for intervention in future.

The newspapers insist that France must have complete liberty of action in exchange for the concessions. Neverthless, the general belief in a final settlement is reflected in the fact that war insurance rates are much easier, and that little business is being done in that Branch.

DEATH OF M. STOLYPIN.

Pogrom Feared at Kieff.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, SEPT. 18.

M. Stolypin died to-day.

KIEFF, SEPT. 18.

The town is most agitated and a pogrom is feared. The streets are being patrolled day and night.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH.

M. Stolypin had distinguished himself as an able and upright official at Grodno and Saratoff when he was made Minister of the Interior in May, 1906. When it seemed necessary to the Tsar to dissolve the first Duma, M. Stolypin was appointed Premier, and carried through the dissolution successfully without resort to force. His policy was to crush revolution, but at the same time to carry reforms, and he set to work resolutely, undeterred by an attempt to blow up his house in which his daughter was crippled, while he himself only narrowly escaped. He found, however, that reform and reaction go very ill together; reaction has become stronger and stronger. M. Stolypin was forced to dissolve the second Duma, and restrict the franchise for the election of the third, and, while reform has gone on very slowly, repression of a since-dead revolution has continued.

M. Stolypin has held office for five years, but by far the most momentous period of his administration was the early months of the present year, when eventually he was defeated by that very Duma which he had bolstered into existence. M. Stolypin had been throughout his career a Tsar's man, "My policy is the policy of my Sovereign" he said years ago, when he was about to become Minister of the Interior. When the other day sorely wounded he was carried to a hospital, he immediately sent a message to the Tsar, that he was ready to die for His Majesty. Stolypin was in many respects a sincere reformer, but to his consideration his Imperial master and not the people had always first claims, while if he felt that his Sovereign's interest demanded it he could be guilty of cruel and rigorous repression.

Having dissolved the first Duma he set about securing the election of a second, which would show itself more tractable to the methods of the Imperial Government. In these he succeeded by methods, which were certainly questionable, but eventually found it necessary to resort to dissolution again. On this occasion by restricting the franchise, and by introducing other changes in the electoral law, he succeeded in securing the return of a Duma of reactionaries mainly recruited from the landlord classes. These in the end proved too strong for Stolypin, who aroused their bitter animosity by presently introducing what was known as the Western Zemstvo Bill. The struggle began in the early days of March, when the Bill, the effect of which, in brief, would be to confer a measure of self-government upon eighteen million inhabitants of the Western Provinces of Russia, was introduced. The Bill passed the Duma. The Premier saw breakers ahead in the Upper House, the Council of the Empire and made his plans accordingly. Deputations arrived, in St. Petersburg and besought the Little Father to put the Bill into force. The wires were pulled, and on March 17, the Premier went light-heartedly to the Council Chamber to watch the passage of the Bill.

The sequel in its way recalled Cæsar's last appearance in the Senate. The Premier made a short incisive speech and called upon the House to pass the Bill. But he had blundered in his calculations. Senators Trepoff and Durnovo spoke against the Bill. It was thrown out by twenty-four votes. The Council, most faithful and obedient of servants, had turned against its master. M. Stolypin, pale with anger and dismay, rose and left the House. Next day he resigned the Premiership. A chorus of jubilation arose from his enemies.

They rejoiced too soon. The events of the next few days could have happened nowhere but in Russia. There was a period of uncertainty. M. Kokovtseff, the Minister of Finance, was spoken of as the new Premier. Messages of congratulation flooded in upon him. But M. Stolypin was summoned by the Tsar. His adversaries began to tremble in fear that he might return. And he did return, not as Primier but as Dictator. His was an utter triumph. He put into force, for the first time since the first Duma met, a clause of the Constitution, Article 87, which provides that the Emperor may, in extraordinary circumstances, while the Duma is not sitting, make any law that seems necessary, subject to its being presented to the Duma for ratification or rejection within two months after the Parliament had resumed its labours. With this stolen Jovian thunderbolt, M. Stolypin set out to annihilate all opposition. He sent the Duma and the Council of the Empire about their business. He adjourned them by Imperial decree upon a Saturday, and upon the following Monday he promulgated, again by Imperial decree, the Western Zemstvo Bill. The stroke was daring; M. Stolypin's reasoning, though false, was simple. "The measure," he said, 'will not appear high-handed to the Conservatives of the Council of the Empire who are accustomed to welcome extra-Parliamentary legislation as evidence of a strong Monarchical regime, nor to the Duma, because this expedient has been adopted to enforce the Duma's will against reaction."

Nothing could have been further from the facts, as M. Stolypin was soon to find. The outraged Councillors, the defenders of the Crown, thus defeated by the use of the Crown's prerogative, could not contain their fury. The Duma, openly flouted and sent packing by the man whom it had supported, was in an uproar. The Monarchist Press violently assaulted the Premier for lowering the Tsar's prestige; the Liberal and Radical newspapers condemned him roundly as a reactionary and an autocrat, a wolf in sheep's clothing, who had at length cast aside his disguise. Even M. Purishkeviton, the most extreme member of the Extremist Right, spoke against the Premier. M. Stolypin had not one solitary friend to stand beside him. Even the Tsar wavered. An audience was granted to Senator Trepoff. The Premier alone and without a single ally, faced the hurricane and waited for it to subside.

Waiting brought him little profit. The President of the Duma resigned, and M. Stolypin's supporters in the Lower House were disorganised and dismayed. The Council of the Empire, made of sterner stuff, resolved to bring him to book. They gave notice of an interpellation requesting an explanaion from the Premier of what was styled his breach of the fundamental laws of the Empire. The Premier accepted the Council's challenge in a tone of high defiance. He declared that his action, if arbitrary, had been taken to preserve the Russian Nationality, and that that was dearer to him than his office. He also quoted as a justification for his action the precedent of Mr. Gladstone's abolition of purchase in the Army in 1869. The Council, however, decided by 99 votes to 53 that its demand for an explanation was not affected by the Premier's declaration.

A month later M. Stolypin was again called upon to defend his action before an angry Duma, in which he had only the support of the representatives of Little Russia, where the Zemstvo Bill was to have its effect, and some Nationalists. Eventually the Duma by 202 votes to 82 passed a resolution charging the Premier with transgressing the constitution by employing the Imperial Government. The Zemstvo Bill, however, had been placed on the statute book, and the double note of censure was allowed neither to affect its position nor the position of the Premier. The Duma proceeded to the consideration of the naval shipbuilding vote, and M. Stolypin remained at the head of affairs.

The name of M. Stolypin will have its greatest claim to the remembrance of posterity in that he may fairly claim in a sense to have saved Parliamentary Government to Russia. He saved it in form, only leaving but the bare semblance of a popular assembly, and it must be for other reformers to restore it to such a condition that it can again claim to represent in some degree the will of the Russian people. It must be conceded to M. Stolypin, however, that had he left the assembly in any less emasculated form, probably not even his superb masterfulness could have saved it from destruction. He has therefore performed a service for the people's cause in Russia, which must not be forgotten by future generations.

Turkey's Protest.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, SEPT. 19.

The Porte, in a recent communication to Russia and Germany, regarding the Russo-German Agreement in Persia, expressed surprise that a Turkish railway should have formed the subject of an agreement, without reference to the Porte, adding that the Porte would consider the agreement non-existent.

Germany replied that the passage referring to the Bagdad Railway was merely an expression of a desire, the realisation of which would be dependent upon the Porte, which would be consulted before any action was taken.

The bookmakers registered by the Calcutta Turf Club received notice from the secretary of the Club, on Saturday, to stop betting in the town. Other bookmakers, it is stated, received notice from the Commissioner of Police to stop taking bets. The only place where betting is now done is the Tattersall's Club run by Mr. Beattie.

IMPERIAL LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

Baronetcy Bill.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT)

SIMLA, SEPT. 18.

The Hon'ble Mr. Syed Alli Imam, in introducing the Sir Cowasji Jehangir Baronetcy Bill, said, "My Lord, I beg to move for leave to introduce a Bill for settling an annuity of fifty thousand rupees, payable by the Secretary of State-in-Council of India in perpetuity, being of the value of fifteen lakhs of rupees and securities in promissory notes of the Government of India or bonds of the Municipal Corporation of the City of Bombay, the trustees of the Port of Bombay and the trustees for the improvement of the City of Bombay, of the nominal value of ten lakhs of rupees and producing a further annual income of about forty thousand rupees and two mansion-houses and hereditaments called respectively Ready-money house and Fort-Mansion in the island of Bombay, the property of Sir Cowasjee Jehangir, Baronet, to accompany and support the title and dignity of a Baronet lately conferred on him by his late Majesty, King Edward VII, held to him and the heirs male of his body, lawfully begotten, and to be begotten, and for other purposes connected therewith.

"The object of the Bill has been put forward in the portion that I have read, but I may be allowed to say just one word as to the necessity which has occasioned my introducing this Bill before the Council. The ordinary law of perpetuity would not permit the settlement of the kind that is intended to be made, though this Bill and therefore an act of legislature is a necessity in the case. There is a precedent for this, inasmuch as two other distinguished countrymen of mine who received similar honours at the hands of the Sovereign also came to this Council and also obtained the same relief which Sir Cowasjee Jehangir in the present instance claims. I could not possibly close my observations, when I move for the introduction of this Bill, without paying to Sir Cowasjee Jehangir the tribute to which he is entitled as a distinguished Indian. He is one of the great captains of industry of the well-known city of Bombay and has been a successful leader in commercial enterprise. His own contributions to public charities and his large-hearted public spirit have drawn not only the respect of his countrymen but have also elecited from his Sovereign the great distinction to which he has been called. I have only one word to add and that is that this Bill has been framed on the lines of Act 6 of 1893 and has been settled in concert with Sir Cowasjee Jehangir's legal advisers and the Government of Bombay."

POST OFFICE BILL.

The Hon'ble Mr. Clark, in introducing the Post Office Bill, said, "My Lord, I move for leave to introduce a Bill further to amend the Indian Post Office Act of 1898. Experience has shown that the powers conferred under this Act on the Post Office have been inadequate in regard to articles posted in contravention of the law. We propose to take further necessary powers and at the same time to amend certain minor defects in the law. The principal provision of the bill is to give the Post Office power to open newspapers, sample and book packet etc., suspected to contain indecent literature of any kind. Experience has shown that these powers are necessary. There has been a very bad case recently in which the Post Office were entirely powerless to stop the circulation of publication of the kind. The powers which we now propose to confer on them are practically the same as those possessed by the Post Office in the United Kingdom. Then, there will be another provision in regard to the search of articles prohibited under notifications issued under the Sea Customs Act of 1878. There is some doubt at present whether the law allows the Post Office to open postal packets in making a search. We propose to define the law and to empower the Post Office to open newspapers, sample books and packets, and book packets. On the other hand there will be no power to open letters and parcels. They will, however, be empowered to hand over parcels and letters suspected to contain prohibited articles to the Customs Authorities. On the other provisions of the bill, one is for the prevention of frauds which have occurred in connection with value payable articles, and the other is for the prevention of transmission by post of bullion and coin and the prohibition of transmission by post of lottery circulars. The other provisions are of minor importance and need not be specifically mentioned."

ALLEGED CHEATING.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, SEPT. 19.

Two Europeans, named Geo. W. Jones and Harry Canning, stand charged before the Chief Magistrate, at the instance of Anna Fishmann, a Russian Jewess with having cheated her under following circumstances: The two accused, on July 1, asked complainant for the loan of her tumtum. On the following day both Jones and Canning called on Fishmann, and informed her that they had met with a serious accident, as a result of which they had knocked down a coolie. The police, so the two men said, were enquiring into the case, but if she would pay Rs. 500 they could "square" the Inspector. The woman believed their story and gave them Rs. 150 in cash, and a diamond ring valued at Rs. 300. The couple then pawned the ring. In the course of enquiries, instituted by Fishmann, she found out that she had been duped. She preferred a complaint and both the accused were arrested. Jones is an ex-Police Inspector of the Bengal Police, and Canning is an actor.

The case was adjourned.

FRANCE AND GERMANY.

THANKS to the delightful "causerie" writer who signs himself "The Londoner," the London "Evening News" appeared in the character of a peace-maker. He quotes the recent interview with Herr von Kiderlen-Wachter, who says that he sincerely believes that neither France nor Germany desires war, but yet can go no further than to assure his interviewer that peace has a very good chance. "What shall I tell the Messenger from Mars," asks "The Londoner," "if he should send up his card for an interview? Am I to say that, while Schulz and Muller and Kaufmann are all for peace, if I add them all up together the result will be an entity eager for war? That Durand and Lefevre, though both peaceful fellows, add up with their peaceful friends into a nation thirsty for German blood?"

And then "the Londoner" retells a familiar story. "When Little Peterkin invited Old Caspar to tell him 'all about the war, and what they killed each other for,' Old Caspar had no answer. But that was very long ago; a better educated Germany would not tolerate Caspar's ignorance. If that remote chance should fall in favour of war, the Little Peterkin of to-morrow will be taught all about the war by his schoolmaster, who remembering this historic interview with Herr von Kiderlen-Wachter, will be able to explain that Frenchmen and Germans slew each other scientifically by tens of thousands, because in a certain corner of Africa—Peterkin will here have to find Morocco on the map—'there had been too much favouritism or French commerce.' And Peterkin, in shabby black for a daddy whose breadwinning was interrupted by the order to mobilise, will have to be content with the explanation."

TROUBLE ON CHINESE FRONTIER.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

ALLAHABAD, SEPT. 19.

It is stated that the Chinese have had to concentrate a considerable force on the south-eastern frontier of Tibet, where the local tribesmen are in rebellion. The country is extremely difficult owing to its mountainous nature and operations are likely to be indefinitely prolonged.

TRIANGULAR CRICKET.

THE PRESIDENCY TEAM.

The following will represent the Presidency in the final match of the Triangular contest to be played on the 25th, 26th and 27th instant:—

Major J. G. Greig.
F. R. R. Brooke.
H. L Simons.
Tennant.
Cooper.
W S. Halliley.
Southey.
Capt. Tillard.
V. S. Purcell.
E. E. Christie.
T. H. Watts.

It will be seen from the above that there have been four changes from the team that played at Poona last week. The place of Major Douglas who cannot get off has been filled by W. S. Halliley, while Captains Kington, Armytage and Yates have been replaced by Purcell, Christie and Watts. It is to be regretted that Turner of Rajkote and Major Turner of Karachi have not been able to come down to Bombay. The team is under the circumstances perhaps the strongest that could have been got together, though many would have welcomed the inclusion of E. L. Sale. The old Presidency player has of late knocked up many useful scores for the Bombay Gymkhana and his inclusion would have strengthened the Presidency defence. It is altogether a strong batting side with Greig, Brooke, Tennant, Halliley and Christie. Its power of attack are also fairly strong, and there is no reason why Southey, Simms ann Purcell should not come off.

THE PARSI TEAM.

The following have been selected to play for the Parsis against the Hindus on Thursday, Friday and Saturday next.

Dr. M. E. Pavri (Capt.)
M. D. Bulsara.
J. S. Warden.
H. F. Mulla.
R P. Meherhomji.
M. B. Wacha.
M. D. Parekh.
S. M. Chothia.
D. K. Kapadia.
D. D. Driver.
F. P. Colabawalla.

Reserves: M. D. Umrigar and J. H. Elchidana. Umpire, R. E Mody, and scorer, D. B. Lam.

The team which played at Poona for the Parsis has been practically recast, only five men who played last week finding a place in the present Eleven. It includes, besides Warden, Bulsara, Mulla and Meherbanji of the All-India team, two new men, Dr. Pavri and F. P. Colabawalla. Of the players who did not play at Poona but who will do so this week, the four All-India men and Dr. Pavri, who will skipper his side, are too well known to need any mention here; while Colabawalla is a steady bat, Barring Dr. Kanga, K. M. Mistry, and A. H. Mehta, who are not available, the team represents the full strength of the Parsis.

BOMBAY IMPROVEMENT TRUST.

Children and the Royal Visit

A Meeting of the Trustees for the Improvement of the City of Bombay was held yesterday afternoon, the Hon'ble Mr. J. P. Orr, Chairman of the Board, presiding.

Consideration was given to a letter from the General Secretary, Royal Visit Fund (1) enquiring wheather the Trustees would be good enough to allow the Royal Visit Fund Committee to erect stands for children, to view the Royal procession along the vacant sites on the Sandhurst Road, without any charge being made for the use of the land; (2) recommending that private persons should be invited to erect stands for the benefit of their communities on spaces which would still remain vacant, and (3) suggesting that the occupiers of the several unsightly temporary structures, which would not be concealed by stands, should be required to put up some flags or bunting to relieve their ugliness.

The chairman proposed the following resolution, which was agreed to:

That so many of the Board's vacant sites along Sandhurst Road as the Royal Visit Fund Committee required for stands for children should be put at their disposal gratis, (2) that the chairman be authorised to dispose of other sites to private parties on nominal rents for similar purposes, provided that no charge be made for admission to stands erected thereon; and (3) that if no parties were found willing to erect stands for the accommodation of their friends, without making charge for admission, the chairman might entertain offers from contractors to erect stands for which admission fees would be charged.

A PROMISING FIELD FOR RESEARCH.

The Genetics of Cotton.

Mr. William Bateson, director of the John Innes Horticultural Institution, Merton Park, Surrey, and formerly Professor of Biology at Cambridge, presided over the new agricultural sub-section of the British Association on Aug. 31. In his address he said that the aspects of agriculture from which it offers hopeful lines for scientific attack are, in the main, three; physiological, pathological, and genetic. We are witnessing a very remarkable outburst of activity in the promotion of science in its application to agriculture. With the institution of the development grant, a national subsidy is provided on considerable scale in England for the first time. The man who devotes his life to applied science should be made to feel that he is in the main stream of scientific progress. If he is not, both his work and science at large will suffer. Plant diseases have hitherto been examined only in the crudest and most empirical fashion. We should probably do best if we left the direct and special needs of agriculture for a time out of account and enlisted the services of pathologist trained in the study of disease as it affects man and animals, a science already developed and far advanced towards success. Such a man, if he were to devote himself to the investigation of the same problems in the case of plants, could make discoveries which would not merely advance the theory of disease-resistance in general very greatly, but would much promote the invention of rational and successful treatment.

Mr. Bateson dealt chiefly with the application of genetics. "When I go to the Temple Show or to a great exhibition of live stock my first feeling is one of admiration and deep humility. Where all is so splendidly done and results so imposing are already attained is it not mere impertinence to suppose that any advice we are able to give is likely to be of value? But the modes by which combinations can be made and by which new forms can be fixed, are through Mendelian analysis and the recent developments of genetic science now reasonably clear, and with that knowledge much of the breeder's work is greatly simplified. A simple and interesting example is furnished by the work which Mr. H. M. Leake is carrying out in the case of cotton in India. The cottons of fine quality grown in India are monopodial in habit, and are consequently late in flowering. In the United Provinces a comparatively early flowering form is required, as otherwise there is not time for the fruits to ripen. The early varieties are sympodial in habit, and the primary apex does not become a flower. Hitherto no sympodial form with cotton of high quality has existed, but Mr. Leake has now made the combination needed, and has fixed a variety with high-class cotton and the sympodial habit, which is suitable for cultivation in the United Provinces. Until genetic physiology was developed by Mendelian analysis, it is safe to say that a practical achievement of this kind could not have been made with rapidity or certainty. The research was planned on broad lines. In the course of it much light was obtained on the genetics of cotton, and features of interest were discovered which considerably advance our knowledge of heredity in several important respects. This work forms an admirable illustration of that simultaneous progress both towards the solution of a complex physiological problem, and also towards the successful attainment of an economic object, which should be the constant aim of agricultural research."

Mr. Bateson mentioned some attractive questions of research actually set. In the case of merino sheep, he had been asked by an Australian breeder whether it is possible to combine the optimum length of wool with the optimum fineness and the right degree of crimping. He had to reply that absolutely nothing is yet known for certain as to the physiological factors determining the length or the fineness of wool. A somewhat similar question came from South Africa. Is it possible to combine the qualities of a strain of ostriches which has extra long plumes with those of another strain which has its plumes extra lustrous? Again the question arises in regard to flax, how should a strain be bred, which shall combine the maximum length with maximum fineness of fibre? "Now in this problem of the flax, and not impossibly in the others I have named, we have questions which can in all likelihood be solved in a form which will be of general, if not of universal, application to a host of other cognate questions. By good luck the required type of flax may be struck at once, in which case it may be fixed by ordinary Mendelian analysis, but if the problem is investigated by accurate methods on a large scale, the results may show the way into some of those general problems of size and number which make a great part of the fundamental mystery of growth. I see no reason why these things should remain inscrutable."

LITHGOW LABOUR TROUBLES.

Peace Restored.

A Sydney despatch, dated the August 30, says:—Peace has been restored at Lithgow, and it now remains to bring to justice the participants in the riot at Messrs. Hoskins's blast furnace, and to count up and repair the damage done by the rioters.

At 2 o'clock this morning the first instalment arrived from Bathurst and other western centres of the police reinforcements which had been urgently telegraphed for. Up to then only seven policemen been available against a big crowd in a dangerous mood. With the arrival of the police contingent from Bathurst the crowd melted away. A couple of hours later 53 policemen sent from Sydney arrived by special train.

Last night's trouble began soon after 6 o'clock. As usual a crowd of unionists gathered to watch the change of shift at the blast furnace, and as usual it was accompanied by a brass band, which played the "Dead March." Some free labourers appeared on an embankment near which over 1,000 persons had gathered around the band, and looked towards the crowd. A unionist went towards them, and there was a rush of youngsters towards the bank. The boys began throwing stones at the non-unionists, and a crowd, numbering several hundreds, brushed aside the few policemen and surged towards the non unionists, who hurried into the engine-room and shut the doors. Then the crowd began to bombard the engine-room with missiles of all kinds, and all the windows were soon smashed. The police tried to quieten the crowd, and some of them were struck by stones and pieces of iron. One had his cheek gashed, and two others were injured on the head.

A section of the crowd proceeded to the free labourers' quarters behind the engine house, and upset and destroyed a quantity of food and furniture. They set fire to trucks, which were afterwards thrown into the dam. Mr. Hoskins's two motor-cars which had been used to carry the non-unionists were standing near by, and the crowd set to work on these. The chauffeurs managed to get one away after it had been considerably damaged. The other, however, was run by the rioters down an embankment, and subsequently set on fire and completely destroyed. The rioters also managed to shut off the blast furnace, which began to cool down.

Mr. Hoskins estimates the damage at least £1,000. He states that the men besieged with him by the furious mob were armed, and that if the crowd had broken in the doors of the engine-room, the consequences would have been serious. The destroyed motor-car was worth £800.

Everything is quite new. The men who were penned up in the engine-room are at work again., and the furnaces are being restarted. There are now nearly 80 police in the town.

A collision occurred this evening between a number of police who were escorting free labourers home and a large crowd which, not content with a most abusive demonstration, made a rush at the non-unionists. The police drew their batons, and used them. The free labourers ran home, hotly pursued, but they escaped injury.

The Rovers' Tournament.

DORSET REGT. vs. BOMBAY GYMKHANA.

The second round of the Rovers' Tournament was opened on Tuesday evening on the Cooperage Ground, Bombay, when, under fine weather conditions, the Bombay Gymkhana met the Dorsetshire Regiment. A fair number of spectators assembled to watch the game. Play was not of an interesting character and the early goals against the Gymkhana seemed to be too easily obtained. The Dorsets' forwards played a keen game throughout, but the Gymkhana did not show that combination which they have displayed on former occasions during the season, and, from the time that they lost their first goal, played like a beaten team. On their play, the Dorsets should figure we l in the later stages of the Tournament.

The Dorsets kicked off and pressed from the start. After about three minutes' play, Bonter succeeded in heading the ball past Lewin, who was closely pressed by the soldiers' forwards. A few moments later, Bridge put in another shot which was so well placed that Lewin was unable to reach it. Then, after a period of midfield play, Lieut. Shute, with a cleverly judged shot, added another point to his sides' score. The game was even for a time and then Barrett put in a good shot which Angus kicked away. Again, for a time, the game lacked interest, although the Dorsets had the better of the exchanges. A rush was at last made by the military forwards and Lieut. Shute, who was playing a scientific game, beat Lewin once more. Soon after this Drew put in the fifth successful shot, but a moment later Lewin saved a dangerous attempt from the same player. Half-time came without further score:

Dorset Regt.	5 goals

In the second half the Dorsets opened the attack, but were well marked by their opponents' backs. For about twenty minutes they did most of the pressing and once Lewin was tested by Bonter, but saved smartly. Shortly after this Drew passed the Gymkhana backs and scored the sixth goal by a shot which Lewin should have saved. The Gymkhana now made an abortive run, but eventually the ball went behind. Presently Cupper scored the graphome's only goal. Then play going to the other end. Lewin received a high shot which he held, but just as he was on the point of clearing, Lieut Shute charged him through the posts and thus gained a seventh point. Midfield play followed, until shortly before time Lewin saved a headed shot from Bridge. When the whistle blew the soldiers were pressing.

Dorset Regt.	7 goals

DORSETS :—Goal, Angus ; backs, Fendly and Emberson; half-backs, Nicholls, Parsons and Danns; forwards, Bonter, Drew, Bridge, Lt. Shute and Vero.

During the half time interval two teams of three men representing the Loyal North Lancs' and the Bombay Football Club ran off the first match in the Leslie sprinting competitors, Harwood of the latter team winning easily and covering the prescribed 105 yards in 11 4-5 secs. Spencer of the regimental team was second and Chapman of the Bombay team third, so that the B. F. C. score ten points against five.

POLO.

Poona Junior Tournament.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

POONA, SEPT. 19.

The Poona Junior Polo Tournament commenced at 8 o'clock this morning with a game between the Buttercups and Bolarum. Few people were out to witness the game, but those who stayed away lost a chance of witnessing a really fine game. The two teams disputed every inch of the ground in their endeavour to strike for goal, but Bolarum had superior mounts.

The Buttercups team was composed of the following players:—Mr. C. A. F. Tuelon, Inniskilling Dragoons, Capt. M. H. Wilson, A-D-C, Capt Hods; on, Roy Fusiliers; Mr. E. C. Bowen, Inniskilling Dragoons.

Bolarum was represented by Mr. Elphinstone, Poona Horse, Capt Meynell, 29th Cavalry; Mr. R. G. Woods, 7th Dragoons, and Mr Lush Wilson R. A.

The Umpires were, Capt. Linsday and Mr. D. M. Fraser.

In the first chukker, from the throw-in, Bolarum at once made headway for the Buttercups' goal and Meynell scored. On turning over Bolarum again forced the pace and soon worked up to the Buttercup's end where a shot for goal was missed. Then followed a series of very fast gallops from post to post until Bollarum found themselves within shooting range, and Wood, having taken charge of the ball, scored during a melee.

Bolarum	2 goals
Buttercups	nil

In the second chukker, from mid-ground, the Buttercups pressed toward their opponents' goal, where three determined efforts to score failed, but the attempt was repeated after a gallop down to centre, when Wilson got the ball and drove between the post. The Buttercups continued to maintain a vigorous attack, but were unsuccessful.

Bolarum	nil
Buttercups	1 goal

In the third chukker, Meynell got away with the ball, but was quickly overhauled by Hodgson, who cleared to the Bolarum end, but was deprived of an opportunity of reaching the posts by Elphinstone who hit back to Wood.

Wood, finding himself practically unopposed, made a clean drive for goal and scored. The rest of the chukker was characterised by hard gallops in all directions.

Bolarum	1 goal.
Buttercups	nil.

The fourth chukker began with a series of drives. Wilson got well away to the Bolarum end, but once he missed Meynell, got on to the ball and cleared. Couple of melees resulted in the pressure being relieved, but soon after Bolarum returned to the attack. At a crucial moment a penalty was imposed on the Buttercups and a moment later Bolarum scored. Following the penalty up, they placed another goal to their credit.

Bolarum	2 goals.
Buttercups	nil.

In the fifth chukker, the Buttercups attacked and Tuelon, taking charge of the ball scored. Another shot for goal by the same team was cleverly saved. Bolarum made the running after this, and, arriving within range of the Buttercups posts, Lush Wilson hit a goal. At the end of the game the score stood as follows:—

Bolarum	5 goals
Buttercups	2 goals

26TH K. G. O. CAVALRY vs. POONA GYMKHANA.

Two further games were played in the evening, when Colonel Baddeley and the gallant officers of the R. E. were "At Home" in the pavilion. The whole of Poona and Kirkee Society were out to witness the two games. The first was between the 26th Cavalry and the Poona Gymkhana, a scratch team. The Cavalry walked rings round their opponents from the start to finish and allowed them no opportunity whatever to score. Greenway cut out most of the work for the Cavalry who put up a creditable total at the finish.

The teams:—26th K. G. O. Cavalry—Mr. A. G. Armstrong ; Mr. C. A. Greenway ; Mr. J. A. Collum ; Capt. F. L. Popham. Poona Gymkhana—Capt. G. B. Kidd ; Capt. Kemble ; Mr. J. M. Cudden ; Maj. E. E. Martin. Umpires, Mr. S. O. Robinson and Capt. Hodgson.

The Cavalry cleared at once to the Gymkhana posts and Popham having taken charge of the ball found an opportunity to draw first blood. On turning over the Cavalry took up the attack, Popham hit up to Greenway who ran away with the ball to the Gymkhana end and hit a goal. The next minute Greenway with a succession of drives worked up to Gymkhana flags and from long range got the ball through.

26th Cavalry	3 goals
Poona Gymkhana	nil.

2nd Chukker—The ball was carried from end to end till the Gymkhana arrived well within shooting range and Kidd let a drive for goal, but missed in the attempt the next instant the Cavalry charged down to the opposite direction where Greenway pounced on the ball and scored. The Cavalry continued to worry the Gymkhana in all directions and soon found a chance to get near enough for goal but Greenway missed his stroke at the mouth of goal, and Martin chipped in and saved the situation for the Gymhana.

26th Cavalry	1 goal
Poona Gymkhana	nil

3rd Chukker—Popham was the first to find the ball and hitting up to Armstrong the latter sped away with it to the Gymkhana end and lost no time in scoring, some brilliant runs followed. The Cavalry having had much the better of the Gymkhana at each turn and once they arrived within range of the Gymkhana posts Popham let drive for goal but missed the next instance. The chukker wound up in a blank.

26th Cavalry	nil.
Poona Gymkhana	nil.

4th Chukker.—From the eastern boundary the ball was worked down to the Gymkhana end and in an instant Popham let up a goal off-side was subsequently given against the Cavalry, but the penalty hit proved of no advantage to the Gymkhana as in hitting out from the line the Cavalry made headway and Popham just missed the goal by an inch when the chukker was up.

26th Cavalry	1 goal.
Poona Gymkhana	nil.

5th Chukker—The Gymkhana hitting out from behind their line helped Popham to the ball and Popham sent it flying back when Martin took possession of it and galloped down to the centre with the others in full chase, the Cavalry soon found their way back to the Gymkhana end and Greenway scored easily. The next minute the Cavalry forced the pace down to the Gymkhana flags and Armstrong hit a goal when the chukker and game was over with this result :—

26th K. G. O. Cavalry	8 goals.
Poona Gymkhana	nil.

THE SIGNALLER'S vs. CAPT. LUCAS' TEAM

This game proved a tight fit and a very interesting struggle for supremacy. The Signallers opened their account in the first chukker, Fraser having performed the feat quite neatly and Patterson returned the compliment in the next. In the fourth chukker the signallers knocked up a second goal and in the final chukker Patterson equalised, so it was now a toss up for victory and Government House representatives settled the dispute by hitting the lucky goal.

The teams :—The Signallers.—Mr. Greenwell, Mr. D. M. Fraser, Mr. D. Findlay, Mr. Hennessey. Capt. Lucas's team—Mr. C. Watson, Mr. Butler, Capt. G. Lucas, Mr. R. H. Patterson.

Umpires—Major B. Clay and Major Daira.

1st Chukker.—The Signallers were off with the ball at once. Fraser having got a flying start with it galloped on as hard as he could for the Lucasians' posts and from long range hit a goal. The Lucasians made the running next and were well within range of the Signallers' flags, but in attempting to score Fraser hit high and wide. The Signallers maintained a vigorous attack but failed in their attempts to score.

Signallers	1 goal.
Lucasians	nil

2nd Chukker :—Lucas was on to the ball and with three hard drives had it well away to the Signallers' end where he missed his final stroke for goal when Fraser galloped up and relieved the situation. The Lucasians found their first opportunity to turn up a goal, a minute later when Patterson took charge of the ball and drove it clean through the posts. The rest of the chukker proved uneventful.

Lucasians	1 goal
Signallers	nil

3rd Chukker :—Fraser Assumed the attack from the start and with a long drive the ball within dangerous proximity to the Lucasians' goal, but the latter were quick to avert disaster or rather Watson was clearing down to the signallers' end. A shot for goal just missed the mark. A few seconds later the Chukker closed in a blank.

Signallers	nil
Lucasians	nil

4th Chukker.—Neither team held much of an advantage from the start till Fraser got on to the ball and drove it along to the start till Lucasians' end where he hit behind the flags. The next instant Hennessy forged to the front with the spheroid under his control. He let drive for goal, but the ball struck up against the post. Henessy was not to be done out of a goal however in a flash, he was on to the ball again and hit it through.

Signallers	1 goal
Lucasians	nil

5th Chukker.—A fast run down to the Signallers' end with Watson attempting to score but missed. Then Patterson took up the attack and from long range sent the ball clean through the posts. A minute later the Lucasians very nigh scored again but the shot went wide. The two teams having signalized with two goals all the goal posts were now widened and play resumed for the lucky goal.

Lucas got the lucky shot and won the game by one goal.

Capt. Lucas' team	3 goals.
The Signallers	2 goals.

HONGKONG AND SHANGHAI BANK.

The ninty-second ordinary half-yearly general meeting of the Shareholders of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation was held on the 19th ult., in the City Hall, Hongkong when the ninety-second report of the Court of Directors was submitted. Mr. G. H. Medhurst, (Chairman).

The Chairman said :—Gentlemen,—The report and accounts have been in your hands for some time, and I shall take them as read. Your directors are pleased to bring before you a favourable report and feel assured that shareholders will agree with them in considering the result of the half-year's working very satisfactory. Including dols. 2,039,151,91, brought forward from last half-year, there is available in the general profit and loss account, the sum of dols. 5,232,844 16, and I hope you will approve the following distribution which we recommend :—A dividend of £2 per share.

Dols. 5 lakhs added to the Silver Reserve Fund and the balance of dols. 2,038,774,39 to be carried forward.

The dividends you have so long been accustomed to receive represent a very handsome return on our Capital, and there is no doubt that the success of this Bank has been largely due to the wise policy adopted in the past, and steadily followed, of building up substantial reserves. You are now benefiting from that policy in no small degree and I am sure it will continue to receive your support.

Our note circulation on 30th June, stood at dols. 17,700,000, an unusually high figure for this time of the year ; this expansion would seem to point to a better demand for money, due to improved business conditions, but unfortunately the state of trade generally in South China does not warrant such a deduction. The most reasonable explanation appears to be, that owing to the recent unrest in the Kwangtung Province and consequent curtailment of credit, notes are being held instead of circulating freely or returning to us through the ordinary channels of trade.

Silver current accounts at dols.109,494,599,38, are dols.10 1-2 millions lower than the high water mark reached on 30th June, 1910, but about 4 dols millions above the December total. Fixed deposits in silver have increased about 2 3-4dols. millions during the half-year and are 1 1-4dols. millions higher than a year ago.

Gold current accounts stand at £4,157,000 against £4,723,000 in the corresponding period last year and £4,006,000 on 31st December last. Gold fixed deposits show a small decrease of £200,000 from the figures of the two previous half-years.

Bills payable are some dols.35 lacs higher than in December but 32dols. lakhs below the figures of the previous June.

Turning to the other side of the account cash including coin deposited with the Government against authorised and or excess note issue, together with bullion in hand and in transit, stand at 74dols. millions against 69dols. and 73 dols. millions respectively in the two preceding half-years.

Our holdings of Rupee paper show no material change during the six months, nor is there any alteration to speak of in the figures under the heading of Consols, Colonial and other Securities.

Bills discounted, loans and credits are almost exactly the same as in December, though a good deal below the figures of a year ago, while bills receivable are some 80dols. lakhs higher than in December and 43dols. lakhs over the previous June total.

One more item in the accounts I must refer to and that is our Sterling Reserve Fund Investments. Our holding of consols, amounting to £1,200.000, was written down on the 31st December to what we considered the safe level of 79. On 30th June, although the quotation was only slightly above our book valuation, we did not think it necessary to provide for further depreciation, as the decline appeared to be of a temporary nature, due largely to forced sales of the stock. However, since that date a further decline in the price has been experienced and, if there is a continuance of the present low level, the stock will be written down at the end of the current half-year in pursuance of our policy of keeping these investments well within the market price.

Dr. J. W. Noble seconded.

The motion was carried unanimously.

Mr. Henry Humpheys proposed that the election of Mr. C. S. Gubbay, Mr. E. Shellim and the Hon. Mr. C. H. Ross as Directors be confirmed.

Mr. A. Bryer seconded and the motion was unanimously agreed to.

SCENE IN NEW SOUTH WALES PARLIAMENT.

Shortly after the Legislative Assembly met on Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Wade asked a question about the recorded votes and proceedings of August 23 which did not agree with the "Hansard" report.

While Mr. Wade was debating the matter with the Speaker Mr. Perry rose and said : "I am going out of this," and straightaway left the Chamber. However amid expressions of astonishment, Mr. Perry was called back by order of the Speaker, who cautioned him for having left the Chamber without paying his respects to the Chair.

Mr. Wood then rose and spoke about the votes and proceedings of August 23, as reported. He was told by the Speaker that as this was question time his remarks were out of order. The Speaker asked Mr. Wood to resume his seat. This was followed by an order by the Speaker to the Sergeant at Arms to remove Mr. Wood.

Government supporters: Pass him out. Out you go! (Disorder.)

A voice on the Government side: Put the bully out! (Disorder, and applaus from the gallery.)

Mr. Wood left the Chamber with the Sergeant-at-Arms.

Mr. Morrish complained that Mr. J. Miller had said that Labour members brought their "bludgers" into the House.

Mr. Miller was required to withdraw the words, which, he said, were: "You bring yur 'bludgers' into the gallery." He withdrew.

The Speaker announced that he nominated as Deputy Chairman of Committee Messrs. Fitzpatrick, Burgess, Scobie, Levy, and Rodson.

Mr. Fitzpatrick : I absolutely decline to act. (Opposition cheers)

Mr. Levy : I decline to be nominated in view of certain grave doubts I entertain as to your position.

The Speaker: Honourable members are quite within their rights in declining to act. It is a distinct honour.

Mr. Fitzpatrick: I don't want any honours from you. (Disorder, and cries from the Ministerial benches of "withdraw!")

The Speaker: The honourable member must withdraw and apologise to the House. (Disorder.)

Mr. Fitzpatrick :) I decline to accept any honours from you.

The Speaker: You must apologise to the House.

Mr. Fitzpatrick: Oh, I'll withdraw if you want me to. (Uproar, and cries of "Make him apologise!)

The Speaker: You must apologise to the House.

Mr. Fitzpatrick advanced to the table and stated that he did not consider that he had said anything for which he should be called upon to apologise.

The Speaker: Order? The honourable member must apologise. (Disorder.)

Mr. Fitzpatrick : Well, if he needs an apology, I will apologise, (Disorder.)

The Speaker: Remove the honourable member? (Great disorder.)

Mr. Fitzpatrick rose from his seat excitedly and advanced to the table and, amid uproar, attempted to address the Chair. While being escorted out of the Chamber, he observed to the Speaker, "It will do you good some of these day's."

Dr. Arthur left the Chamber in company with Mr. Fitzpatrick, saying "And I will go, so."

When the House met after the dinner adjournment, Mr. J. Miller brought under the notice of the Speaker that during the adjournment he had been threatened with personal violence within the precincts of the House by men who vowed that they were supporters of the Labour Party.

The Speaker: Am I to understand that strangers interfered with the honourable member?

Mr. J. Miller: They were strangers who came out of the strangers' gallery.

The Speaker asked that something definite in writing should be placed before him by Mr. Miller with a view to his taking action.

THE DANGERS OF DYSENTERY.

How to Overcome Them.

Next to Malaria, there is no doubt that Dysentery is the most potent source of anxiety to the resident in India. There is no need to dilate on its symptoms, or the intense pain it causes, for these things are among everyone's commonest experiences.

Even when the disease is accurately defined, and there is not the slightest suspicion to assume, as Sir Joseph Fayrer, in his book on "Preservation of Health in India," says : "Diarrhœa sometimes means incipient cholera," it is, nevertheless, imperative to be on one's guard, and, after arresting the progress of disease, to build up the strength so as to enable the patient to withstand the ravages made by the complaint, and to safeguard him against a return. This is particularly the case with children, for, as the physician who wrote the well-known little book, "How to Keep Well in India," remarks : "All diarrhœal ailments require very special care in all tropical climates. Apparently simple at their commencement, they may reduce a child within an ace of death within less than twenty-four hours, and, if it survives, may stunt its growth even for years."

Naturally, no ordinary individual would dream of treating such cases himself, and all sufferers from Dysentery seek the advice of their physician. He invariably follows the routine treatment laid down by Sir Joseph Fayrer of prescribing ipecacuanha, followed by Dover's powder and quinine, with perfect rest in bed, slop diet, coupled with the arresting of any sudden relaxation of the bowels by astringents, combined with a few drops of laudanum. Eventually, time comes when it is necessary to begin building up the strength and getting the vital forces which have been reduced to a low level to burn with their normal brightness and revivifying warmth.

For this purpose, what is essentially needed is a preparation which will supply the weakened digestive organs with food they can easily deal with rapidly assimilate, and so transmute into new tissue, while, at the same time, it specially feeds the brain and nervous system, which have been depleted of their life-giving and energising phosphorus. Many combinations have been tried to achieve this object. Only of late years, however, has science succeeded in discovering a preparation which does this in an absolutely thorough, complete, and successful manner. It has achieved this desideratum by combining the bodybuilding element of pure milk with glycero-phosphate of sodium, the form in which phosphorus is found in the brain and nervous system.

Given separately, these substances would soon destroy even strong digestive organs and produce dyspepsia. When they are chemically combined, however, they aid the digestion in a very marked manner, and, acting both on the nervous and physical side of the body at the same time, they rapidly restore the individual to complete health and strength.

The preparation made this way is Sanatogen, which is universally recognised by the medical profession as the most revitalising and the greatest reconstituent substance in the world. It has received the written endorsement of over 12,000 doctors, including ten physicians to crowned heads of Europe, and it is commonly spoken of as "the tonic food with lasting effects," for the reason that, unlike other tonics, the results it produces do not depart when it has been left off. Indeed, doctors have shown by innumerable cases that it has the remarkable power of putting the body into such a condition that the vital processes can go on normally without the aid of further medicine, a matter of no little importance to the individual.

Not only does Sanatogen supply the body with a substance which is all food with no waste, so that the lost tissues are rapidly restored while the nervous system is revitalised and the lassitude incident to Dysentery completely banished, but it also exercises so profound an impression on the bloodmaking organs, that it stimulates them to remarkable activity. The result is that, as the distinguished physician, Sir William Gowers, among others, has pointed out, the red blood corpuscles multiply with remarkable rapidity, frequently reaching an increased total of half a million per cubic centimetre in a fortnight, with an increase of two per cent. of hæmoglobin, the vital red colouring matter of the blood per week. This improvement in the quality and quantity of the blood soon results in the patient losing his pale, waxy, wan complexion, and taking on a healthy, strong, rosy, robust look.

Thousands of letters have been received from doctors as well as from patients testifying to the beneficial effects of Sanatogen in Dysentery. From among them the following may be quoted :

Dr. H. H. W. Hart, Hapur Remount Depot, Babugarh, United Provinces, writes: "I have much pleasure in certifying to the value of Sanatogen in cases of Dysentery and other exhausting diseases. I have used it regularly in my practice for the past two years, and in no single instance have I been disappointed with its results. I can honestly affirm that many of the worst cases owed their recovery to Sanatogen."

An exceedingly interesting pamphlet, "The Englishman in India," which contains further information on this subject, and on others of vital importance to all residents in India, will be sent, free, on application to the Sanatogen Company, (of London,) Box 226, G.P.O., Bombay, mentioning the "Bombay Gazette."

Sanatogen may be obtained of all Chemists and Bazaars.

THE LADIES' CORNER.

ABOUT THE EVENING GOWN.

To differentiate between the dinner dress and the rest gown, says a lady correspondent writing in mail week, is at this season of the year a thankless task. The essential points of both frocks are so closely akin that they may share a name, and that name may be what each individual wishes. Of the personal appearance of the frock there is much that might be said but after due reflection it is not necessary to be prodigal of words. The main characteristic of the dress should be its winsomeness and freshness. It is the "debutante" among evening toilttes. Then it should be comfortable also, a tempting dress luring one to enjoy its pleasantness as well as its beauty. These essentials understood, a very wide range of possibilities in materials and trimmings awaits a choice.

THE LURE OF LACE.

As the dress made wholly or in part of lace is a delightful one to contemplate, it should be remembered and reported upon first of all. There is no need to use the lace in old ways. Flounces of an important width can be employed as hip draperies, knotted in front or at the back, as the case may be. Veils as long and wide as those that fell to the waist from the poke bonnets of early Victorian days make very pretty bib and apron decorations, and there are scarves and lappets, of which fichus and collars can be fashioned. The type of lace to be utilised should govern the choice of colour to be ordered as a background, and a drapery for it. I am putting a limit on the tint of the lace, for, though the dyed kinds are undoubtedly fashionable, it is black and white, string, ecru, and the butter shades that are most delightful in the estimation of all true lovers of lace. The others are fashionable freaks, and not, as a rule, successful ones for a long acquaintance. It is startling and surprising to see a pink lace and chiffon frock, but to have to put it on often is absolutely satiating, and, as the dinner dress of this month and next is the one that is likely to be a close companion of the evening hours, it is well not to tire of it quickly.

QUICK-CHANGE TOILETTES.

Black Chantilly over white satin is so time-honoured a union of fabrics that in recommending it I am mentioning nothing startling. Everything, however, depends on treatment, and there are ways of introducing the lace that will alter the aspect of the dress entirely, and as it can be detached the frock can be altered in appearance so much that it will do duty for two. Women are fond of quick change toilettes, which certainly are most useful in days of coming and going. They have turncoats in numbers of materials, and frocks that are like the chameleon, changing at will. The scarves that drape the dress can be presented in many guises, and the fichu is a resource of much moment. It is made a part of the train, a part of the tunic, or a part of the corsage only, tucked inside the kerchief beneath a bunch of flowers. Some of the prettiest frocks of the autumn season persuasion that dwell in my memory are those made of "native" materials bought in Algiers or Malta, India, or some other far-away place. They lie unheeded in a wardrobe after they have been brought home, until a moment of inspiration arrives and they are brought out and subjected to a process of thought and planning, to emerge the darlings of the autumn outfit; something individualistic and fragrant with fond memories.

FEATHER, FUR, AND VELVET HEADGEAR.

On the autumn hats, too, velvet is a very valuable asset. It is used for the entire covering of picturesque shapes, both large and small, of the beautiful Rubens model, for example, and the piquant beret. The brims of turbans, otherwise all feathers are swathed with velvet, and what can be seen of the crowns through the interstices of plumage is velvet also. An uncommon-looking hat is made of beaver brown velvet, with a "ribbon" of golden plumage round the crown, and a big mother-o-pearl slide in front, from which ascend two slender antennæ, like those of a butterfly, made apparently of wire, covered lightly with plumage Grebe is one of the loveliest of feathers, white and grey, with a silvery sheen upon it, and a turban and muff set with a huge silver net scarf finished at the hem with three rouleaux of the feathers, make a very becoming autumn possession, especially for the blonde, to whose delicate beauty the ghostly feathers are a becoming ornament. The game-bird plumage that is in primary use glitters with the lustre of purple and bronze, and the millinery that it composes is issued in all the shapes, both strange and simple, that one finds in other materials. A huge victory has been gained by the felt hats which, having been raised again to the pinnacle from which they were deposed last winter, are being trimmed wish special daintiness. Light and airy butterfly bows, made of dyed lace, and ostrich feathers, ruches with poufs, or a single long plume at one side, figure among the pretty schemes.

PRETTY SCHEMES.

The mention of pretty schemes reminds me of new neckwear, which is always interesting. The narrow velvet necklets threaded through jewelled slides have simple country relatives, devoid of jewels but finished with clusters of tiny flowers in front. There are new chemisettes composed of the finest net, with a close yet openwork pattern upon it, decorated round the throat with a little ruche of velvet ribbon. Charming also are the very deep ruffles of "mousseline de soie," of scanty fulness, with a hemstitched edge and perhaps a lilliputian ruche at the extreme edge.

UMBRELLAS AND STREAMING WINDOWS.

In Bergen, where this tea-table talk may be said to take place, in a confectioner's of undoubted fascination, there is an umbrella shop which advertises itself by a method I have always found amusing. On the pavement, in front of the shop window, there are little brass umbrellas, sticks, and alpenstocks, set right into the stone so that those who run may read, and convey their soaking or weary persons straight into the haven, where protection and a panacea can be bought. Another amusing incident in shopland is a window continually streaming with water, which cools the atmosphere and keeps the viands fresh.

UNLICENSED COCAINE.

YESTERDAY, at the Esplanade Police Court, before Mr. A. H. S. Aston, Chief Presidency Magistrate, Superintendent Walton charged Bortola Devescovi, a fireman, with importing 141 oz. of cocaine, valued at Rs. 3,530, without a license. It appeared from the evidence that on the 17th instant, on receiving certain information, Mr. C. R. Watkins, Assistant Collector of Customs, went on board the steamer and found the cocaine concealed in a bunker. The accused admitted having brought the cocaine. Mr. Walton asked for an exemplary punishment as cases of this kind had become too frequent. The accused was sentenced to undergo four months' rigorous imprisonment.

"SCRATCHED UNTIL I TORE THE FLESH"

Itching, Burning Skin Eczema. Body, Legs and Arms One Mass of Sores. Could not Sleep with Constant Itch. Tried Cuticura Remedies and in Less than One Week Skin was All Right.

"It was in the latter end of the year 1908 that a nasty itch came through my skin, and I scratched it until I tore the flesh. I tried several ointments to no effect. I went to a skin hospital. They advised me to go to the —— Hospital, but I refused. I could not sleep with the constant itch. I was that way until on or about the month of January. One day I chanced to see in the papers a singular case like mine, but I gave it no credence. At last I said, 'I will try the Cuticura Remedies. With the first wash and Cuticura Ointment I used, I found their effects. I got one box of the Ointment more, and in less than one week the skin was all right, and left no traces after it. I have not had a return of the same since, and I shall always praise the Cuticura Remedies as being the means of my cure." (Signed) John Tyrrell, 94, Scotland Road, Liverpool, Eng., Apr. 9, 1910.

In a later letter Mr. Tyrrell adds: "The first appearance of my skin eczema was a burning itch which I tore and left my body, legs and arms one mass of sores. It caused sleepless nights, but now I can sleep as well as ever."

A single cake of Cuticura Soap and box of Cuticura Ointment are often sufficient, when all else fails. Sold throughout the world. Depots: London, 27, Charterhouse Sq.: Sydney, N. S. W., R. Towns & Co.: Calcutta, B. K. Paul: Cape Town, etc., Lennon, Ltd.: U. S. A., Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston. Post-free, Cuticura Book on skin and scalp diseases and their treatment.

IN DEFENCE OF THE LONG SERMON.

The "Record," the oldest Church newspaper, is keeping the holiday season with a symposium of lay opinions on sermons. It is of interest to find from a recent issue that one layman, Mr. Frederick Sherlock, boldly puts in a plea for the long sermon. He writes: I have long felt that the present-day makers of sermons have done much to destroy the quality of preaching, by so weakly giving way to the ignorant clamour of a noisy section of the laity, who demand short sermons. . . For many years I heard every one of Liddon's Sunday afternoon sermons in St. Paul's, and I have never met one of his hearers who complained of the length of his matchless expositions, although they usually took forty to forty-five minutes or more in their delivery. Restrict a Liddon to ten or fifteen minutes, and brutally tell him that you think ten or fifteen minutes long enough for any sermon, and you will soon destroy even his great preaching gift. That may be true, but then every preacher is not a Liddon.

SALMON AND TOO MUCH SUNSHINE.

Owing, it is believed, to long-continued dry weather and the extreme lowness of the water in the beds of some of the Scottish rivers, salmon disease of the fungus type has become somewhat prevalent. But in addition to this well-known trouble among salmon, a disease of a very different character, and not hitherto detected in the rivers, has been found. This has been discovered in the tidal waters of the rivers, and apparently in the case of fish fresh run from the sea. That the disease is of a dangerous nature may be gathered from the fact that several dead fish affected with it have been taken from these tidal waters.

NERVOUS DEPRESSION.

One of these fish, taken from the Doon, was sent to Mr. Calderwood at the Scottish Fisherry Board Office, Edinburgh. Mr. Calderwood reports: "I found that on both sides of the fish, in the region of the spinal-column, there were depressions. . . . On opening the muscles of the back where the depressions were, I found the condition of the muscle altered and collapsed. . . . The condition seems to me akin to that which I have found in fish taken at the mouths of streams in the Outer Hebrides after long-continued hot summer weather. . . . I consider the affection is one of the nervous system, owing to long-continuance of bright light when the fish is in shallow water." So too much sunshine is good for neither man nor fish.

MEETINGS OF BRITISH ASSOCIATION.

Meetings of the British Association are now marked by Spartan simplicity in comparison with the brilliant debut at Oxford during the summer term of 1832. Those were the days of Gargantuan eating and drinking, and there was lavish hospitality. In addition to daily dinners, there were open air breakfasts in the college gardens, and "free refreshments" at all meetings. Two fat bucks were devoured, one sent by the Duke of Buckinghamshire, and the other by Archbishop Harcourt from Nuneham Park. A skeleton appeared at the feasts of these epicurean savants in the shape of a question whether women should be allowed to attend their meetings. In the end Mrs. Somerville decided not to attend, "for fear her presence should encourage less capable representative of her sex." A rather sarcastic leading article of the "Times" commented on this first meeting, and came to the conclusion that such scientific gatherings served no good purpose.

SOME DICKENS REMINISCENCES.

An announcement of great interest to admirers of Dickens is made in the September number of "Nash's Magazine." With an alert eye on the celebration of the novelist's centenary next year, the editor intends to publish a series of articles from various persons who were the intimate associates of the author of "David Copperfield." The first article, copiously illustrated, has now appeared. It is from the pen of Mr. Alfred Tennyson Dickens, the eldest surviving son of the novelist, who, although he has often lectured on his father, has never before written an article about him. As father and son met for the last time in 1865—the year of Mr. A. T. Dickens's emigration—it will be seen that Mr. Dickens's notes come to an end just five years before his father's death.

"DR. MARIGOLD."

One of Mr. Dickens's recollections concerns the procession of welcome to Queen Alexandra when she reached this country for her marriage with King Edward in 1863. The route included Fleet-street and the Strand: My father, my aunt Miss Georgina Hogarth, and myself were the sole occupants of the balcony on the first floor of the office of "All the Year Round," at the corners of Wellington-and York-streets. The Traffic was blocked for the procession, and in Wellington-street there was a mass of omnibuses, cabs, carriages, and other vehicles. On the top of one of these buses stood the conductor, a man brimful of natural wit and humour, doing the "cheap jack man" absolutely to perfection. He beguiled the time and kept the crowd, including my father, in roars of laughter. From the fact that "Dr. Marigold's Prescriptions" appeared as the Christmas number of "All the Year Round" in 1865, Mr. Tennyson Dickens states his firm conviction that the omnibus conductor was really the germ of the idea which became so successful under his father's treatment.

WHERE "STANNY" IS REMEMBERED.

There are many allusions to famous places, incidents, and people of the past, and, in mentioning the Tavistock-square theatricals, Mr. Dickens says: The scenery was painted by Mr. Clarkson Stanfield, R. A., familiarly known to my father and his intimates as "Stanny." At the sale of the furniture and effects at Gad's Hill in the autumn of 1870, the drop-scene of the Eddy-stone Lighthouse realised one thousand guineas. I was much surprised, when I was lecturing at Sunderland this year to a very large audience, to find that the name of Stanfield was greeted with loud and continued applause. "I understood the reason the next morning (adds Mr. Dickens), when I visited the local art gallery, and found not only that Stanfield was a native of the town, but some of the noblest examples of his work were hanging on the walls."

NEW SOURCE OF LEMON SUPPLY.

Visitors to the British South Africa Company's office in the Strand may see samples of oranges and lemons from Southern Rhodesia. Both fruits have been submitted to a Covent Garden expert for his report and valuation, and he describes the oranges as very fair juicy samples. The lemons appear to have given even greater satisfaction, and are pronounced to be some of the finest that he has ever seen. Exceptional flavour, comparing favourably with any of the best Sicilian or Naples lemons being the gist of his report. Wild lemons grow freely in many parts of Rhodesia, notably in the Mazoe Valley, the present trees being in all probability the descendants of those imported by missionaries in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries.

CANON GREGORY'S LAST DAYS.

Canon Scott Holland, in the September "Commonwealth," has "in memoriam" articles on Dean Gregory and the late Bishop of Oxford. In describing the Dean's last days, Canon Holland says "old age brought to him new gifts. He was changed and mellowed. Peace and tenderness and resignation did their quiet and beautiful work upon him, until the long day ended. He had done: he could go home. "Shall we read the whole Service?" his daughter asked just at the end. "No: not the first lesson. It's Proverbs: and I shall not want Proverbs any more," was his answer. The discipline of life had been attained. After that, he was absorbed in the interest of the unseen world. He would not attend to those who talked to him. "I am very interested;" he explained, while he seemed to be speaking to old friends, and said "Quite so! Quite so" several times. Even then, the strong body almost refused to die. Only, after a long unconsciounness, it consented to the death that had been so often postponed. Dean Gregory had seen Byron's funeral pass through Nottingham to Newark, and had rowed out in a boat to meet the first steamer coming back over the Atlantic from America.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS:—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep, by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other cause. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine dealers everywhere.

BOOKS AND BOOKMEN.

LETTERS BY BORROW.

A good many years ago there appeared, in one of the British and Foreign Bible Society's publications, several letters written by Borrow, when he first undertook the duty of agent for the society. If we remember aright, the continuation of these letters was interrupted by the untimely death of the then editor. We are now, however, glad to learn that these letters, with others addressed to the society by Borrow during his wanderings in Russia and Spain, are to be collected in a volume which is being edited by the Rev. T. H. Darlow. The cult of Borrow may not be so widespread, as it was some years ago, but there is still a goodly band of Borrovians who will gixe a hearty welcome to this addition to his collected writings.

GRAY'S ESSAYS AND CRITICISMS.

An edition of Gray's Essays and Criticisms, which has recently appeared, reminds us that we are still without the third and concluding volume in Bohn's Library of the poet's letters. The first volume appeared eleven years ago, the second about six years since, and many admirers of the work—admirably edited by Mr. Tovey—have for some time been looking for its completion. We trust this may not be much longer deferred.

CHESTERTON AS A POET.

Mr. G. K. Chesterton made his first reputation as a poet. He has now turned to his old love, and written a stirring "Ballad of the White Horse," an enthusiastic eulogy of England and of King Alfred, describing that monarch's noble exploits, his character, his struggle with the Danes, the story of the White Horse, and the battle of Ethandune. The poem is in the four-lined ballad measure.

NEW LIFE OF CARLYLE.

Mr. David A. Wilson, who occupies an important judicial position in Burma, has long been at work upon a Life of Carlyle. It will be a work of considerable importance, but it is not expected to be completed for some years to come. Mr. Wilson, who has already published several works—one on the Proude-Carlyle controversy—will go home towards the end of the year.

SHELLEY AND HIS FRIENDS IN ITALY.

An interesting excursion into the paths of literary biography has been published by Messrs. Methuen. This is a volume entitled "Shelley and his Friends in Italy." by Helen Rossetti Angeli. The work deals with the poet and his English and Italian associates in Italy, between the year 1818 and the date of his death, and is illustrated by Maxwell. Armfired,

LIFE OF HARRIET BEECHER STOWE.

Many will be interested in the announcement that an authorised Life of Harriet Beecher Stowe—whose centenary has been celebrated this year—will appear in October next. It is written by her son, Charles Stowe, in co-operation with her grandson, Lyman Beecher Stowe, and contains much that is new and interesting regarding the personality of Mrs. Stowe, with the story of how "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was written. Messrs. Nisbet will publish the work.

ANOTHER BIOGRAPHY.

Another forthcoming biography is "Memoirs of Samuel Hoare (of Hampstead, 1751-1825)," written by his daughter Sarah and his widow Hannah (nee Sterry). Also letters, hitherto unpublished, from his first wife Sarah (nee Gurney), written from Broad-street, London, during the Lord George Gordon Riots in 1780. Messrs. Headley Brothers are bringing out the book this month.

SWANSTON EDITION OF STEVENSON.

The whole of the limited set of the "Swanston" edition of Stevenson, consisting of 2,000 copies, has already been taken up by subscribers. It will include a long preface by Mr. Andrew Lang, and will be published by Messrs. Chatto and Windus. The "Life" of Stevenson, by Mr. Graham Balfour, will be added to Messrs. Methuen's popular Shilling Library immediately.

"WOMEN WRITE THE BEST LETTERS"

For one of his aphorisms, "Women write the best letters," the late Judge Willis could claim high literary authority. De Quincey committed himself to a very similar opinion. If anyone wished, he said in effect, to find an example of the liveliest and easiest English he had only to steal a post-bag and break open the first letter from one lady to another, which he came across. And are there not also the letters of Lady Mary Wortley Montagu and of Madame de Sevigne which might be cited in the same connexion? But probably it was hardly examples of the latter order which provoked Judge Willis's observation. A collection of the judge's obiter dicta, by the way, would be well worth making, since he was always expressing his opinions on this subject and that in racy language and with entire unconventionality.

INDIAN SCULPTURE AND PAINTING.

One of the most successful art-books recently published was M. E. B. Havell's work on "Indian Sculpture and Painting." An appropriate companion to that volume, written by the same author, is now in the press, and will shortly be published by Mr. Murray, under the title of "The Ideals of Indian Art." The work, illustrated by the great masterpieces of Buddhist and Hindu sculpture, affords a comprehensive analysis of Indian æsthetic ideals, and emphasises the importance of the influence of Indian thought in the evolution of the art of China and Japan.

NOVEL DEDICATED TO SIR HORACE PLUNKETT.

Mr. Shan F. Bullock has dedicated his new novel, "Hetty," to Sir Horace Plunkett, who is, one is sorry to learn, still under doctor's orders abstain from all public work. The dedication is in these terms: "To that good Irishman, Horace Plunkett."

THE GREAT ADVENTURERS.

Messrs. Nelson will inaugurate a new series of books under the title, The Great Adventurers with a volume on Sir Walter Raleigh, from the pen of Mr. John Buchan. During the last thirty years there have, besides several monographs, been lives of the great Elizabethan by Mrs. Creighton, Mr. Edmund Gosse, Mr. William Stebbing, and Major Martin Hume; and in Mr. Buchan's hands knowledge of Raleigh will certainly be extended, while his fame will in no way be tarnished. Mr. Buchan published his first book, "Sir Quixote," in 1895, when he was only twenty, and in 1897 he was responsible for a monograph on the brilliant and heroic figure he has chosen as the initial volume of what is sure to be an attractive series.

JOHN LEYDEN, THE BORDER POET.

In several of the the letters of Sir Walter Scott there are interesting references of John Leyden, the Border poet and accomplished Orientalist, the centenary of whose death was celebrated in mail week. Leyden, who was the son of a Roxburghshire shepherd, had managed to pass through the college and to qualify for the ministry of the Church of Scotland when he was "discovered" by Richard Heber, who told Scott about him. Chiefly through Scott he was introduced into Edinburgh Society, where his marvellous genius, his varied attainments, literary and scientific, and his amiable personality made him a favourite. He went to India as a surgeon-assistant in 1803, and spent the last eight years of his life there. As an Oriental scholar he achieved unique distinction, having mastered some thirty-four languages or dialects. His ballads entitle him to the place next after Scott and Hogg among the poets of the Border.

THE BEST FRENCH NOVEL.

The result of an invitation by a French newspaper to its readers to say which, in their opinion, was the best French novel, reflects the mind of the modern French reader of fiction as showing in which direction his tastes lie. The book most in favour, at all events with the readers who were questioned, was "Madame Bovary." One hundred and eighty-one thought Flaubert's story worthy to take the foremost place in popular favour. "Dominique" came next on the list with 142 voters. Among the other books chosen were "Le Rouge et le Noir" and "La Princesse de Cleves" 105, "Les Liaisons dangereuses" 94, "Manon Lescaut" 88, "Adolphe" 53 "L'Education sentimentale" 52, "La Pere Goriot" 52, "Une Vie" 50, "Les Oiseaux s'envolent et les Feuilles tombent" 41, "Sapho" 40, "Les Miserables" 33, "Eugenie Grandet" 29, "La Cousine Bette" 28, "Salammbo" 22, "La Chanson de Roland" 21, "Pantagruel" 20, "Gil Blas" 17,

MADAGASCAR AQUAMARINE JEWELRY.

THIS Blue Gem is the most important precious stone discovery of modern times. As the name implies, it is found in Madagascar, and has only come upon the market since the opening up of that country by the French authorities. Its colour is a delicate sax-blue, a tint which is very uncommon in precious stones.

Owing, it is said, to a curious superstition on the part of the natives, it is difficult to obtain large size stones of this pretty gem, as the large stones are smashed by them before leaving their possession.

The stone possesses the pleasing property of considerably improving in artificial light, showing to considerable advantage its delicate limpid tint and brilliancy, which makes it exceedingly popular owing to the fact that it can be worn with any costume.

A Clergyman

Nervous Collapse, Brain-Fag, Neuralgia—

For getting things done, making things go, the invigorating stimulus of Phosferine cannot be equalled, says the Rev. A. H. Field. Fully aware that as a clergyman he is bound to make sure of the accuracy of his estimation of Phosferine, this gentleman states that, distinct from other cases, he has verified and tested the efficacy of the tonic himself. It was Phosferine, and Phosferine alone, he says, which raised him from the nervous collapse, remedied the brain-fag and neuralgia which held down his efforts and arrested his plans over a lengthy period. Since taking Phosferine he is entirely free from nervous distresses, and can put his whole heart and energies into his work, and indeed, such is his activity that he has roused many helpers to his cause. Experience has taught the Rev. A. H. Field that numbers of people do not realise their languor and half-hearted efforts are due to lack of nerve force, and he believes they will quicker appreciate the efficacy of Phosferine by learning of his own recovery.

Have No Existence Now.

Rev. A. H. Field, 336, Brettenham Road, Walthamstow, writes: "It gives me much pleasure to testify to the beneficial effects of Phosferine in many cases of nervous disorder, where I have advised the use of your tonic. Some four years ago I myself had a nervous breakdown, and a friend advised Phosferine. I took his advice, and I speedily found that I had acted wisely, for the neuralgic pains and the mental weariness soon took flight, and I was thoroughly braced up. Recently some members of my church, at my suggestion, tried the remedy, and were quite satisfied with the beneficial results. I have advised its use now for nearly four years, and in no case has it yet proved a failure. When one thinks of the great number of so-called nerve remedies, it is satisfactory to find at least one upon which reliance can be placed. I wish your Phosferine every success. When preaching away, I have noticed Phosferine finds a place in the village homes.'

DR. DE JONGH'S

KNIGHT OF THE ORDER OF LEOPOLD OF BELGIUM
KNIGHT OF THE LEGION OF HONOUR

LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL

THE PUREST. THE MOST PALATABLE. THE MOST DIGESTIBLE. THE MOST EFFICACIOUS.

Incontestably proved by Forty Years' Medical Experience to be The only Cod Liver Oil which produces the full curative effects in CONSUMPTION AND DISEASES OF THE CHEST, THROAT AFFECTIONS, GENERAL DEBILITY, DISEASES OF THE SKIN, WASTING DISEASES OF CHILDREN, RICKETS, AND ALL SCROFULOUS DISORDERS.

SELECT MEDICAL OPINIONS:

SIR G. DUNCAN GIBB, Bart., M.D.,
Physician to the Westminster Hospital.

"The value of DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL as a therapeutic agent in a number of diseases, chiefly of an exhaustive character, has been admitted by the world of medicine; but, in addition, I have found it a remedy of great power in the treatment of many Affections of the Throat and Larynx, especially in Consumption of the latter, where it will sustain life when everything else fails."

DR. SINCLAIR COGHILL,
Physician to the Royal National Hospital for Consumption, Ventnor.

"I have convinced myself that in Tubercular and the various forms of Strumous Disease, Dr. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL possesses greater therapeutic efficacy than any other Cod Liver Oil with which I am acquainted. It was especially noted in a large number of cases in which the patients protested they had never been able to retain or digest other Cod Liver Oil, that DR. DE JONGH'S OIL was not only tolerated, but taken readily, and with marked benefit."

JOSEPH J. POPE Esq., M.R.C.S.,
Late Staff Surgeon, Army, Professor of Hygiene, Birkbeck Institution, London.

"I found during my Indian experience that the worth and character of DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL remained unchanged by tropical heat or foreign climate, and it was, from its uniformity of character, particularly adapted for long-continued administration. The value of 'hydro-carbons' in all debilitated states of the system is now becoming thoroughly recognized; and it is, without doubt, from the animal oils, and fats, rather than from their vegetable substitutes, that we may hope to derive the surest benefit. The Oil of DR. DE JONGH places in everyone's reach a reliable and valuable remedy, one that cannot be too widely recognized."

DR. R. C. CROFT,
Author of "Handbook for the Nursery."

"DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL is almost a specific in many of the Diseases peculiar to Infancy and Childhood, and I have seen marked benefit produced by its use. Patients prefer it to the Pale Oils, and are able to retain it more comfortably."

DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL is Supplied ONLY in IMPERIAL Half-Pints, Pints and Quarts, sealed with BETTS' Patent Capsule impressed on the top with DR. DE JONGH'S Stamp, and on the side with his Signature, and the Signature of ANSAR, HARFORD & Co.; and bearing under the wrapper a Label with the same Stamp and Signatures, WITHOUT THESE MARKS NONE CAN POSSIBLY BE GENUINE.

Sold by all respectable Chemists, Druggists, and Storekeepers throughout the World.
